this book is a three part journey into the rabbit hole we call the nature of reality its ultimate destination is a plausible living validation of transcendence each of its three parts is like a turn of a spiral exploring recurring ideas through the prisms of religious myth truth and belief respectively with each turn the book seeks to convey a more nuanced and complete understanding of the many facets of transcendence part i puts forward the controversial notion that many religious myths are actually true and not just allegorically so part ii argues that our own inner storytelling plays a surprising role in creating the seeming concreteness of things and the tangibility of history part iii suggests in the form of a myth how deeply ingrained belief systems create the world we live in the three themes myth truth and belief flow into and interpenetrate each other throughout the book in this collection leading scholars in both film studies and israeli studies show that beyond representing familiar historical accounts or striving to offer a more complete and accurate depiction of the past israeli cinema has innovatively used trauma and memory to offer insights about israeli society and to engage with cinematic experimentation and invention tracing a long line of films from the 1940s up to the 2000s the contributors use close readings of these films not only to reconstruct the past but also to actively engage with it addressing both high profile and lesser known fiction and non fiction israeli films deeper than oblivion underlines the unique aesthetic choices many of these films make in their attempt to confront the difficulties perhaps even impossibility of representing trauma by looking at recent and classic examples of israeli films that turn to memory and trauma this book addresses the pressing issues and disputes in the field today given the imperfections of our society and the apparent downward spiral of spiritual and moral values seen in recent years loving caring and respecting someone has almost become a thing of the past indeed these once natural emotions and reactions to one another seem to have diminished so rapidly that even finding true loyal friends acquaintances and family members who support and encourage you and who partake in your successes can be difficult perhaps i am too critical when i say this but maybe its because it is this context in which i consider the following true story of a man who felt significant pain and reflects the context in which i have endured my own pain over time this book has been difficult for me to write there are sections where i will be explaining certain things to you the reader about my very own thoughts and feelings regarding the hurtful insinuations and malicious gossip certain people have spread around about me to try and discredit me and bring about my downfall you will find that i havent mentioned any real names or named places of where events have taken place instead i have gathered together information on the situations i have endured and of those that apply to the story provided here that of a man who felt immense pain how deeply we who love the lord god desire to follow him and draw strength from him in order to gain power to surmount all the difficulties and test and conflicts in life in the same exultant and triumphant way that he had previously displayed to learn the secret of victorious living has been the hearts desire of those who love the lord god in every generation we who follow god all strive to help victims find hope and victory here on this earth and during this life we hope that through our input they will be able to always react to evil tribulation sorrow pain and every negative situation that they experience in such a way that allows them to transform their emotions into something positive and that they too seek to praise god forever
