Self-study Manual on Optical Radiation Measurements 1976 the kindly reception accorded to the first edition of this book has confirmed the author in his conviction that such a book was needed and has tempted him to bestow additional labor upon it the chief changes consist in the addition of two new chapters active imagination and how to develop interest in a subject the division into two parts of the unwieldy chapter on memory the addition of readings and exercises at the end of each chapter the preparation of an analytical table of contents the correction of the bibliography to date the addition of an index and some recasting of phraseology in the interest of clearness and emphasis the author gratefully acknowledges the constructive suggestions of reviewers and others who have used the book and hopes that he has profited by them in this revision educational leaders are seeing with increasing clearness the necessity of teaching students not only the subject matter of study but also methods of study teachers are beginning to see that students waste a vast amount of time and form many harmful habits because they do not know how to use their minds the recognition of this condition is taking the form of the movement toward supervised study which attempts to acquaint the student with principles of economy and directness in using his mind it is generally agreed that there are certain tricks which make for mental efficiency consisting of methods of apperceiving facts methods of review devices for arranging work some are the fruits of psychological experimentation others are derived from experience many of them can be imparted by instruction and it is for the purpose of systematizing these and making them available for students that this book is prepared excerpt from guide to the study and use of reference books a manual for librarians teachers and students besides cyclopedias and dictionaries which give direct aid the reader will have to consult more elaborate treatises for further information bibliographies are guides to these a know ledge of bibliography therefore forms an important part in the preparation of the student the most useful reference department will include bibliographies of special subjects along with the cyclopedias of those subjects it is to be regretted that books belonging to the class bibliography are as a rule kept in the cataloger's room or the librarian's office not in the reference department where they would be useful to the public in a large library such an important printed catalog as that of the peabody institute library should by all means be kept where the public can have easy access to it even if it is necessary to duplicate such a work this manual will also serve as a guide in the selection of reference books for a library the prices given are the publishers prices and the lowest price is usually quoted books can often be obtained at a discount or picked up from time to time at auction or second hand stores at a much reduced price reference books are expensive and few libraries can afford to keep up with new editions or even with recent authorities in many cases new editions are not worth the cost they are frequently made from the same plates as the earlier editions with slight alterations not of sufficient importance to warrant the expense involved in their purchase a suggestive list of one hundred reference books for a small library will be found at the end of the volume about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
