presenting two decades of work by abigail solomon godeau photography after photography is an inquiry into the circuits of power that shape photographic practice criticism and historiography as the boundaries that separate photography from other forms of artistic production are increasingly fluid solomon godeau a pioneering feminist and politically engaged critic argues that the relationships between photography culture gender and power demand renewed attention in her analyses of the photographic production of cindy sherman robert mapplethorpe susan meiselas francesca woodman and others solomon godeau refigures the disciplinary object of photography by considering these practices through an examination of the determinations of genre and gender as these shape the relations between photographers their images and their viewers among her subjects are the 2006 abu ghraib prison photographs and the cold war era exhibition the family of man insofar as these illustrate photography's embeddedness in social relations viewing relations and ideological formations
