mommy and daddy the mother father of a son or daughter so i want to send them a message you people also take my point forward this is one of the things i wrote that i put in front of you in the form of a story it happens that those who do timepass always break the heart of others and say that love like krishna radha understand that krishna and radha love each other not like you one playwright breaks one they were both one if krishna is walking then the shadow falls on radha and if radha is walking then the shadow falls on krishna boys and girls these days when they say something good they don't understand how badly they think about it and the one who thinks good will leave it and that man will fight with himself all his life for one thing if you understand that a boy or a girl loves someone and does not appreciate others then yes what do you do how sad it is to be released after saying yes he she will be in trouble for the rest of his her life you know that by what right do you bother him he she does not force you to love you break the heart of a man by passing the time so let me tell you one thing if you break someone's heart by playing a love game and passing the time so A Story of Ambivalent Modernization in Bangladesh and West Bengal

this book details the evolution of bengali culture in both bangladesh and west bengal since antiquity and argues for its modernization originally peripheral to hindu civilization based in north india bengali culture was subjected to various forms of sanskritization centuries of invasions 1204 1757 resulted most notably in the islamization of bengal often there were conflicts between sanskritization and islamization later colonization of bengal by britain 1757 led to a process of anglicization which created a new middle class in bengal that in turn created a form of elitism among the bengali hindu upper caste after british rule ended 1947 bengali culture lost its elitist status in south asia and has undergone severe marginalization political instability and economic insufficiency as reflected by many quantitative and qualitative indicators are common and contribute to pervasive unemployment alienation vigilantism and instability in the entire region a story of ambivalent modernization in bangladesh and west bengal is appropriate not only for bengali intellectuals and scholars but for sociologists political scientists cultural anthropologists historians and others interested in a case study of how and why a given culture becomes derailed from its path toward modernization
