most important bird areas in africa it is also one of the least well known birds of somalia provides an atlas of 654 maps showing the distribution of all the species known from the country each species account details the species preferred habitat its relative abundance and details of migration breeding season and clutch size much of the ornithological content of the book is based on personal experience about 70 of the observations on the maps were provided by the authors and they claim to have seen all but one of the 654 birds on the somali list besides adding over 50 first time records to it they were also responsible for finding and adding to science one new species and four new subspecies of birds in somalia chapters summarise the available knowledge on bird migration and breeding seasons within somalia the records are astonishing when it is considered that they come from such a little known country the results of the rather limited amount of ringing carried out in the country are also summarised and the recoveries of ringed birds are of extreme interest christopher hemming contributes what amounts to a major treatise on the soils and vegetation of somalia carlo violani and fausto barbagli provide a historical review of ornithology and ornithologists professor celia nyamweru describes the geology and peter robertson gives an up to date perspective on the state of bird and habitat conservation and the issues involved a magnificent series of coloured plates by martin woodcock is included which depict 25 little known birds special to the region including the new species and races there is also a selection of habitat photographs and excellent maps showing the topography geology and vegetation of the country there are further lists detailing hybrids doubtful records species offshore and borderline and unacceptable records of much interest and value to many including museum workers and those not directly involved in ornithology will be the gazetteer of localities throughout somalia its value is greatly enhanced by being cross referenced in somali nationally representative survey data for uganda a country in a region that pioneered mobile money in the world we use the propensity score matching method to robustly compare mobile money users and non users across a range of indicators that capture individuals perceptions about cash and the extent to which they remit save and borrow money we present the first evidence that mobile money users compared to non users are more likely to perceive cash as risky and less likely to prefer carrying large amounts of cash we also confirm that mobile money users are more likely to receive and send remittances save and borrow they also save and borrow larger amounts the focus on concepts of power and domination in societal structures has characterized sociology since its beginnings max weber s definition of power as imposing one s will on others is still relevant to explaining processes in the arts whether their production imagination communication distribution critique or consumption domination in the arts is exercised by internal and external rulers through institutionalized social structures and through beliefs about their legitimacy achieved by defining and shaping art tastes the complexity of how the arts relate to power arises from the complexity of the policies of artistic production distribution and consumption policies which serve to facilitate or hinder an aesthetic object from reaching its intended public curators critics and collectors employ a variety of forms of cultural and artistic communication to mirror and shape the dominant social economic and political conditions arts and power policies in and by the arts brings together diverse voices who position the societal functions of art in fields of domination and power of structure and agency whether they are used to impose hegemonic totalitarian or unjust goals or to pursue social purposes fostering equal rights and grassroots democracy the contributions in this volume are exploratory steps towards including the uganda protectorate which it ruled for 68 years early administrators in the region encountered the progressive kingdom of buganda which they incorporated into the british empire under the guise of protection indirect rule and patronage britain overran plundered and disempowered the kingdom s traditional institutions on liquidation of the empire buganda was coaxed into a problematic political order largely dictated from london today 56 years after independence the kingdom struggles to rediscover itself within uganda s fragile politics based on newly de classified records this book reconstructs a history of the machinations underpinning british imperial interests in b uganda and the personalities who embodied colonial rule it addresses anglo uganda relations demonstrating how uganda s politics reflects its colonial past and the forces shaping its future it is a far reaching examination of british rule in b uganda questioning whether it was designed for protection for patronage or for plunder climate change is expected to bring new challenges and opportunities for the livelihoods of rural communities in uganda where more than 80 of the population depends on rain fed agriculture the purpose of this review was to analyze national policies on climate change adaptation agriculture forests management of forested and agroforested landscape ecosystems and their goods and services and the roles of stakeholders in the national arena recognizing the role of forest cover in climate change mitigation and adaptation this review is based on stakeholder engagement and analysis of published literature on the policy institutional and socioeconomic drivers of forest cover change around mount elgon the bulk of uganda s forests are on land under private ownership and deforestation has occurred mainly in such forests several national laws and international conventions ratified by uganda offer a framework under which forests are managed management of protected forests is shared between central and local authorities several natural resource policies are likely to have significant unintended impacts that may enable or limit the adaptation of stakeholders and ecosystems to climate change the current climate change policy which is an overarching document that addresses climate change in uganda suggests that policy responses either sector specific or crosscutting in nature be harmonized in order to better address the challenges associated with climate change adaptation and mitigation studies of african economic development frequently focus on the daunting challenges the continent faces from recurrent crises to ethnic conflicts and long standing corruption a raft of deep rooted problems has led many to regard the continent as facing many hurdles to raise living standards yet africa has made considerable progress in the past decade with a gdp growth rate exceeding five percent in some regions the african successes series looks at recent improvements in living standards and other measures of development in many african countries with an eye toward identifying what shaped them and the extent to which lessons learned are transferable and can guide policy in other nations and at the international level the fourth volume in the series african successes sustainable growth combines informative case studies with careful empirical analysis to consider the prospects for future african growth ugandan english is a variety that has scarcely been noticed in past research this timely volume brings together african and european scholars in a first ever collection of articles that offer comprehensive discussions of the historical and present day sociolinguistics of english in uganda and fine grained analyses of the structural characteristics of and attitudes to this hitherto largely unknown variety using rich archive corpus and interview data as well as ethnographic and observational methods the various contributions paint a comprehensive picture of ugandan english as distinct from other east african englishes and as characterized by nativisation despite a still strong exonormative orientation reflecting the modern nation s status as a post protectorate under the influence of globalisation apart from advancing our understanding of ugandan english itself the individual chapters contribute to theoretical debates on language contact and variation as regards the influence of substrate languages founder populations language ideologies and socio economic factors considering the current challenges to human progress this reference book examines recent theories policies and sectoral priorities as well as various social economic and administrative factors that impact worldwide modernization and development the book emphasizes the fact that communities must evaluate continuously and adjust their program activities in order to achieve a genuine mode of development this volume includes case studies demonstrating effective applications of the major operational tools for the layout and execution of major development policies and examines the current trends and future directions in development theories policies and practices in the 21st century in recent years uganda has consistently been one of the fastest growing economies in africa leading to a substantial reduction in poverty this book looks at how the country managed to carry out this economic transformation in the wake of idi amin s rule and the civil war of the 1980s reprints
