these volumes contain 365 of the 505 papers presented at the vuv 11 conference held at rikkyo university tokyo from august 27th to september 1st 1995 the papers are divided into three sections atomic and molecular spectroscopy solid state spectroscopy and instrumentation and technological applications new aspects presented were both quantitative and qualitative improvements in fluorescence spectroscopy and magnetic circular dichroism measurements the fluorescence data are complementary to those of photoemission in a sense but they appear to open up a new method to analyze the optical excitation and relaxation processes the application of magnetic circular dichroism has proved to be useful not only in analyzing the electronic structures of magnetic materials but also in practical applications to material engineering as found in experiments combined with photoelectron microscopy excellent developments in applications are only found in the field of surface photochemistry where the technique of etching using vuv light has been appreciably refined although the majority of distinctive scientific features in the vuv 11 conference have been brought about by the application of synchrotron radiation experiments using a different type of light source appear to have progressed steadily this is evident in the studies of plasma radiation the conference timetable had to be so arranged as to spread the main topics over several separate sessions it was therefore decided to publish the material in these proceedings under nine subject headings irrespective of session within each chapter which is preceded by a list of the sessions featuring the subject all papers invited and contributed whether presented at the conference or accepted for publication only have been arranged in some logical order the reports of the four panel discussions were edited or summarized by the respective moderator in consultation with panel members in one instance shortened versions of the introductory papers precede the discussion where possible verbatim accounts of the often lively exchanges have been retained the customary catalogue of high energy accelerators has been published separately the continuing world wide activities in accelerator research with its ever larger projects are reflected by the numerous contributions accepted for inclusion in these proceedings which have reached the limit of what a single volume can manageably contain while making rapid publication even harder to achieve all the more reason to extend the gratitude of all concerned to those involved in the chain of production to the authors for their prompt handing in or timely posting of their papers thanks also to their secretaries who followed the guidelines for the presentation of camera ready copy
