throughout the world there has been a growing wave of interest in global corporate power and the rise of a transnational capitalist class triggered by economic and political transformations that have blurred national borders and disembedded corporate business from national domiciles using social network analysis william carroll maps the changing field of power generated by elite relations among the world's largest corporations and related political organizations carroll provides an in depth analysis that spans the three decades of the late 20th and early 21st century when capitalist globalization attained unprecedented momentum propelled both by the transnationalization of accumulation and by the political paradigm of transnational neoliberalism this has been an era in which national governments have deregulated capital international institutions such as the world trade organization and the world economic forum have gained prominence and production and finance have become more fully transnational increasing the structural power of capital over communities and workers within this context of transformation the book charts the making of a transnational capitalist class reaching beyond national forms of capitalist class organization into a global field but facing spirited opposition from below in an ongoing struggle that is also a struggle over alternative global futures this volume was first published in 1979 just a few years after the local government act of 1972 redrew the map of british local government local authorities were also encouraged to change their organization and methods of work anxiety was expressed about finance councillor calibre and the credibility of the whole system itself and neighbourhood councils and public participation in planning were introduced john dearlove's aim is to make sense of these changes and the discussion they generated he does this by showing that both the official case for reorganization and the academic discussion of it have hindered their own understanding by uncritically accepting superficial traditional wisdoms which fail to reveal the concealed ideological positions behind reorganization thus he aims to develop a truly political perspective on reorganisation which is rounded out and given greater depth by the insertion at appropriate points of comparative material drawn from american experience and studies
