il concetto di sviluppo territoriale si è evoluto in maniera profonda non è più misurato unicamente sulla sua dimensione economica ma anche su quella politica e sociale l'attuale visione dello sviluppo ha superato la mera crescita per estendersi all'ambiente all'innovazione al capitale sociale e relazionale il territorio costituisce la cartina tornasole dello sviluppo il territorio è infatti il raccordo dell'iniziativa dei vari attori che implementano le strategie di sviluppo e delle interazioni alle e tra le diverse scale la crescita di importanza delle città assume quindi un valore strategico l'emergere di spinte nazionaliste e sovraniste impone la rilettura delle politiche pubbliche in ambito europeo e delle narrazioni che ripropongono la centralità degli stati nei confronti della crescente agibilità concessa dall'unione europea alle regioni uno scenario che in sintonia con il controverso fenomeno della globalizzazione e con la rilevanza acquisita dalle città offre spazi di manovra alle forze che sostengono il ritorno al primato della sovranità nazionale potrebbe la riflessione filosofica ricoprire ancora oggi un importante ruolo nel favorire i cambiamenti di prospettiva culturale che in questo secolo pare necessario attendersi dalla civiltà occidentale il movimento filosofico e sociale dell'ecologia profonda è convinto di sì e propone in questo senso di affrontare le numerose crisi del mondo contemporaneo da quella ambientale e biologica a quella economica e sociale adottando un nuovo modello interpretativo del reale esso sostiene semplicemente che al centro del mondo non si debba più porre l'uomo ma l'insieme dei rapporti vivente ambiente che consente alla vita nel suo complesso di prosperare secondo la filosofia ecocentrica tutte le odierni crisi sono semplici conseguenze di un'unica grande crisi del pensiero è per questo motivo che bisognerebbe abbandonare quanto prima il suo paradigma antropocentrico occidentale a favore di quello ecocentrico ciononostante la nostra cultura sembra ancora ben lontana dal cedere il passo ad altri paradigmi di pensiero le incomprensioni teoriche le strumentalizzazioni concettuali e le reticenze individuali hanno infatti fortemente limitato l'impatto sociale dell'ecocentrismo il volume dunque non illustra soltanto le idee centrali della speculazione ecofilosofica e le più rilevanti implicazioni ontologiche ed esistenziali delle ecosofie proposte dal deep ecology movement ma approfondisce anche alcuni dei principali motivi che sembrano ostacolare o rallentare lo sviluppo e la diffusione del pensiero ecocentrico i risultati cui perviene la ricerca forniscono un panorama esaustivo della filosofica ecocentrica contemporanea ed evidenziano come l'urgenza di porre teoricamente in connessione questioni e conoscenze riferite al mondo vitale tecnologico naturale e scientifico non possa essere scissa dall'esigenza di adottare un nuovo medium di comunicazione del pensiero quale medium sembra allora essere maggiormente adatto del world wide a trasmettere quel nuovo pensiero reticolare e sistematico che si sta già lentamente diffondendo

Critical Legal Education as a Subversive Activity the discussion of architecture with all the visibility of its objects tends to downplay the invisible flows of money that sustain its production it is as if the dependency on economic forces is too much to face up to better than to celebrate the catalytic genius of the architectural hero and then the glorious outputs and try to ignore everything else that goes on in between this issue intends to probe the in between space of the operations of architecture examining the intersection of the projects of architecture with economies and with it their associated social and political contexts and implications it is only through a better understanding of the way that contemporary economics cut across architectural operations that one can learn to deal with these dominant forces in a resistive and transformational manner this handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research it argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented the thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically by covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields an extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the anglo saxon tradition but including as well what in the german continental tradition is labelled pädagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process the handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies museums and public art have traditionally taken significantly different approaches to customer engagement but throughout history they have also worked together in some urban contexts notably as landmarks of so called cultural districts public art and museums in cultural districts reviews their changing interactions in many different types of cities since the enlightenment or even before going back to the etymological origins of museums and monuments in classical antiquity the type of historical enquiry presented within the volume is not intended as a total narrative but the international study cases considered convey a global panorama of the shifting paradigms set in different periods by some cultural neighbourhoods and emulated worldwide blurring boundaries between art history museology and urbanism this critical account explores past tensions achievements and failures giving insightful consideration to present policies and pointing out reasonable recommendations for the future regarding public heritage presenting for the first time an insights into the role of collections of public art as landmarks of cultural districts this book considers collections displayed outdoors from the double perspective of curatorial outreach and civic values this book will fill a gap in the existing museum studies literature hitherto mainly focused on indoor collecting and curatorial policies but increasingly more and more attentive to their outside context as such the book should be of great interest to academics researchers and students working in the fields of art heritage museum studies and urban history it should also be of value to professionals working in the museum and art sectors in the world of the second sophistic education paideia was a crucial factor in the discourse of power knowledge in the fields of medicine history philosophy and poetry joined with rhetorical brilliance and a presentable manner became the outward appearance of the elite of the eastern roman empire this outward appearance guaranteed a high social status as well as political and economical power for the individual and major advantages for their hometowns in intercity competition since paideia was related particularly to classical greek antiquity it was at the same time fundamental to the new self confidence of the greek east this book presents for the first time studies from a broad range of disciplines on various fields of life and on different media in which this ideology became manifest these contributions show that the sophists and their texts were only the most prominent exponents of a system of thoughts and values structuring the life of the elite in general considering the ubiquity of rhetorical training in antiquity the volume starts from the premise that every first person statement in ancient literature is in some way rhetorically modelled and aesthetically shaped focusing on different types of greek and latin literature poetry and prose from the archaic age to late antiquity the contributions analyse the use and modelling of gender specific elements in different types of first person speech be it that the speaker is represented as the author of a work be it that they feature as characters in the work narrating their own story or that of others in doing so they do not only offer new insights into the rhetorical strategies and literary techniques used to construct a gendered i in ancient literature they also address the form and function of first person discourse in classical literature in general touching on fields of research that have increasingly come into focus in recent years such as authorship studies studies concerning the ancient notion s of the literary persona as well as a historical narratology that discusses concepts such as the narrator or the literary character in ancient literary theory and practice architecture is an inward looking discipline its history conveys the norms of the discipline to an audience composed mostly of architects who are familiar with the work of their predecessors from whom they learnt or for whom they worked as such architecture singularises the multiple processes through which space is produced excluding difference in the pursuit of coherent narratives to sustain its authority and does so mainly through the figure of the architect for a long time now critics have shown how that figure is principally male however little has been said about the fact that the figure of the architect is also white a racial classification that refers not only to epidermal characteristics but to their national origin education and in most cases their class affiliation
