how we play socialize create identities and engage in politics and civic life indeed we are so enmeshed in digital networks from social media to cell phones that it is hard to conceive of them from the outside or to imagine an alternative let alone defy their seemingly inescapable power and logic yes it is sort of possible to quit facebook but is it possible to disconnect from the digital network and why might we want to off the network is a fresh and authoritative examination of how the hidden logic of the internet social media and the digital network is changing users understanding of the world and why that should worry us ulises ali mejias also suggests how we might begin to rethink the logic of the network and question its ascendancy touted as consensual inclusive and pleasurable the digital network is also mejias says monopolizing and threatening in its capacity to determine commodify and commercialize so many aspects of our lives he shows how the network broadens participation yet also exacerbates disparity and how it excludes more of society than it includes uniquely mejias makes the case that it is not only necessary to challenge the privatized and commercialized modes of social and civic life offered by corporate controlled spaces such as facebook and twitter but that such confrontations can be mounted from both within and outside the network the result is an uncompromising sophisticated and accessible critique of the digital world that increasingly dominates our lives within the past 10 years tremendous innovations have been brought forth in information diffusion and management such technologies as social media have transformed the way that information is disseminated and used making it critical to understand its distribution through these mediums with the consistent creation and wide availability of information it has become imperative to remain updated on the latest trends and applications in this field information diffusion management and knowledge sharing breakthroughs in research and practice examines the trends models challenges issues and strategies of information diffusion and management from a global context highlighting a range of topics such as influence maximization information spread control and social influence this publication is an ideal reference source for managers librarians information systems specialists professionals researchers and administrators seeking current research on the theories and applications of global information management case studies in food retailing and distribution aims to close the gap between academic researchers and industry professionals through the presentation of real world scenarios and the application of field based research the book provides contemporary explorations of food retailing and consumption from various contexts around the globe using a case study lens successful examples of practice are provided and areas for further theoretical investigation are offered coverage includes the impact of retail concentration and the ongoing relevance of independent retailing how social forces impact upon food retailing and consumption trends in organic food retailing and distribution discussion of how wellbeing and sustainability have impacted the sector perspectives on the future of food retailing and distribution this book is a volume in the consumer science and strategic marketing series addresses business problems in in food retail and distribution includes pricing and supply chain management discusses food retailing in urban and rural settings covers both global distribution and entry in developing nations features real world case studies that demonstrate what does and does not the rise of international criminal trials has been accompanied by a call for domestic responses to extraordinary violence yet there is remarkably limited research on the interactions among local national and international transitional justice institutions rwanda offers an early example of multilevel courts operating in concert this book makes a crucial and timely contribution to the examination of these pluralist responses to atrocity at a juncture when holistic approaches are rapidly becoming the policy norm it focuses on the practices of rwanda s post genocide criminal courts understanding the current state and dynamics of any forest is extremely difficult if not impossible without recognizing its history białowieża primeval forest bpf located on the border between poland and belarus is one of the best preserved european lowland forests and a subject of myriads of works focusing on countless aspects of its biology ecology management bpf was protected for centuries 15th 18th century as a game reserve of polish kings and lithuanian grand dukes being at that time a part of the grand duchy of lithuania bpf was subject to long lasting traditional multi functional utilisation characteristic for this part of europe including haymaking on forest meadows traditional bee keeping and fishing in rivers flowing through forest this traditional model of management came to an abrupt end due to political change in 1795 when poland and grand duchy of lithuania ceased to exist in effect of partitioning by neighbouring countries and the territory of bpf was taken over by the russian empire the new russian administration influenced by the german trends in forestry attempted at introducing the new science based forestry model in the bpf throughout the 19th century the entire 19th century in the history of bpf is a story of struggle between new trends and concepts brought and implemented by new rulers of the land and the traditional perception of the forest and forest uses culturally rooted in this area and originating from mediaeval or older practices the book will show the historical background and the outcome of this struggle the forest s history in the long 19th century focusing on tracking all cultural imprints both material artificial landscapes introduced alien species human induced processes and immaterial traditional knowledge of forest and use of forest resources the political and cultural significance of the forest that shaped the forest s current state and picture our book will deliver a picture of a crucial moment in forest history relevant not only to the central europe but to the continent in general moment of transition between a royal hunting ground traditional type of use widespread throughout europe to a modern managed forest looking at main obstacles in the management shift the essential difference in perceptions of the forest and goods it provides in both modes of management and the implications of the management change for the state of bpf in the long 19th century could help in better understanding the changes that european forests underwent in general some vols include supplemental journals of such proceedings of the sessions as during the time they were depending were ordered to be kept secret and respecting which the injunction of secrecy was afterwards taken off by the order of the house field tested solutions to cisco router problems cover the digital world profoundly shapes how we work and consume and also how we play socialize create identities and engage in politics and civic life indeed we are so enmeshed in digital networks from social media to cell phones that it is hard to conceive of them from the outside or to imagine an alternative let alone defy their seemingly inescapable power and logic yes it is sort of possible to quit facebook but is it possible to disconnect from the digital network and why might we want to off the network is a fresh and authoritative examination of how the hidden logic of the internet social media and the digital network is changing users understanding of the world and why that should worry us ulises ali mejias also suggests how we might begin to rethink the logic of the network and question its ascendancy touted as consensual inclusive and pleasurable the digital network is also mejias says monopolizing and threatening in its capacity to determine commodify and commercialize so many aspects of our lives he shows how the network broadens participation yet also exacerbates disparity and how it excludes more of society than it includes uniquely mejias makes the case that it is not only necessary to challenge the privatized and commercialized modes of social and civic life offered by corporate controlled spaces such as facebook and twitter but that such confrontations can be mounted from both within and outside the network the result is an uncompromising sophisticated and accessible critique of the digital world that increasingly dominates our lives understanding the current state and dynamics of any forest is extremely difficult if not impossible without recognizing its history białowieża primeval forest bpf located on the border between poland and belarus is one of the best preserved european lowland forests and a subject of myriads of works focusing on countless aspects of its biology ecology management bpf was protected for centuries 15th 18th century as a game reserve of polish kings and lithuanian grand dukes being at that time a part of the grand duchy of lithuania bpf was subject to long lasting traditional multi functional utilisation characteristic for this part of europe including haymaking on forest meadows traditional bee keeping and fishing in rivers flowing through forest this traditional model of management came to an abrupt end due to political change in 1795 when poland and grand duchy of lithuania ceased to exist in effect of partitioning by neighbouring countries and the territory of bpf was taken over by the russian empire the new russian administration influenced by the german trends in forestry attempted at introducing the new science based forestry model in the bpf throughout the 19th century the entire 19th century in the history of bpf is a story of struggle between new trends and concepts brought and implemented by new rulers of the land and the traditional perception of the forest and forest uses culturally rooted in this area and originating from mediaeval or older practices the book will show the historical background and the outcome of this struggle the forest s history in the long 19th century focusing on tracking all cultural imprints both material artificial landscapes introduced alien species human induced processes and immaterial traditional knowledge of forest and use of forest resources the political and cultural significance of the forest that shaped the forest s current state and picture our book will deliver a picture of a crucial moment in forest history relevant not only to the central europe but to the continent in general moment of transition between a royal hunting ground traditional type of use widespread throughout europe to a modern managed forest looking at main obstacles in the management shift the essential difference in perceptions of the forest and goods it provides in both modes of management and the implications of the management change for the state of bpf in the long 19th century could help in better understanding the changes that european forests underwent in general
