i will teach you what sort of virtues should surround your prayer or what sort of prayerful virtuous life a christian should plant in himself not in my own words but in the words of the holy hierarch dimitri of rostov who briefly lists these things in the following instructions from christian spiritual instruction part 1 p 288 1 when you wake up let your first thought be about god your first word be a prayer to god your creator and keeper of your life who is always able to give life or destroy it who can strike with illness and heal and who can save or destroy 2 bow and give thanks to god who raised you from sleep and who did not allow you to perish in your sins but with long suffering awaited your repentance 3 make a start for better things saying with the psalmist and i said this is my infirmity ps 77 10 for no one completes the path to heaven except he who makes a good beginning everyday 5 do not waste time any longer do only those things which are necessary 7 awaken yourself to the love of god in all things whenever you are able especially say to yourself with the psalmist while i was musing the fire burned ps 39 3 15 you must pray about your death which is the end of all things see what sort of wonderful life is taught to the praying christian let everyone strive in knowledge standing in prayer and exercising is according to your instruction how can you stand to pray if you are weighed down with intemperance or carried away with anger or if you do not stand in peace or you are distracted by work and lack of attention and so on this book investigates luke s message of salvation in relation to socio economic issues and thus concerns salvation of the rich as well as the poor with a narrative reading of luke s gospel built on careful examination of its socio economic context it demonstrates that luke s message of salvation is best understood as 1 divine mercy which champions the cause of the poor and redresses the injustice of the world 2 its human embodiment and 3 divine reward promised to those who enact mercy wi argues that luke s question of what must we do juxtaposes salvation with doing posing interesting questions with respect to the salvation of the rich this volume highlights good news to the poor in terms of divine mercy and justice shows that the reception of divine mercy calls for practices which embody it and above all clarifies luke s notion of salvation of the rich which will happen as participation in the salvation of the poor wi s conclusion challenges its readers by asking the question along with luke s audience what must we do temporal and spiritual journeys were a shared characteristic of life for mendicant friars and the laity in medieval and early modern times this book reflects the objective approach of trained historians in its skilled deployment of source documents throughout these pages we meet with wandering friars and the lay faithful some for the first time the contributors are international scholars each enquires into a specific area of study from the fourteenth to the eighteenth century in particular this reveals that travel in its various forms represented an intrinsic link between the four great mendicant orders augustinians carmelites dominicans and franciscans until recently mendicant historiography was written by and for members of each respective order the contents are grouped thematically into three sections the first considers the significance of travel in mendicant writings about the eastern mediterranean and europe the opening chapter examines the old testament traditions of the carmelites followed by two essays on fifteenth century italian franciscans these emphasise how travel was essential for observant renewal to succeed the second section of the book concentrates on early modern spain travel was not limited to the outward journey the humanist poetry of the augustinian friar luis de león attended to the inner journey of the soul during this life the next chapter draws attention to interrelations between laity and clergy this provides insights into the soul's journey into death according to the behaviour of the lay faithful in the third section we find the fact finding journeys of bartolomé de las casas on land and sea in defence of native peoples in the new world the volume closes with a study of a dominican friar who followed his own path rather than the accepted routine of travel for friars by exploring a wide range of experiences over five centuries this book shows that travel contributed to religious development in many parts of the world choose for yourselves this day whom you will serve joshua 24 15 niv it is almost unfathomable to believe that just nine years ago neen was in prison a place as familiar to her as the streets she lived on in just 15 years she had been arrested 83 times with 66 convictions neen had and lost four children she was a crack addict a prostitute and desperately lost but as long as she had breath she would still have hope one day after 32 years hustling on the streets of annapolis neen s crumb of hope turned into a seed of trust then i will make up to you for the years that the swarming locust has eaten joel 2 25 nasv healing neen isn t just another story about victims and survivors or recovery and redemption ultimately it is a story of good news and a testament to god s grace and presence it is the story of a woman s path to salvation and a propitious glimpse into the potential buried deep within some of society s most vulnerable people see that you do not despise one of these little ones for i tell you that in heaven their angels always see the face of my father who is in heaven matthew 18 10 esv but this story isn't just about neen it's about the value of human life the depth of suffering and the heights of grace it is a convincing cri de coeur for better practices in the way we treat and counsel those caught in the cycles of trauma addiction and serial incarceration neen brings us face to face with the ubiquitous corruption neglect and abuse in some of the systems meant to safeguard at risk women and children yet she leaves us with hope that things can change for the better today tonier cain's calling is to help save thousands of other neens across the nation she is a leading advocate for trauma informed care in prisons and mental health facilities she is a champion for examining and improving the way we help one another toward redemption and she is the voice of compassion and promise for so many still living on the fringe who need to hear where there's breath there's hope the gospel of mark portrays jesus making impossible demands on his disciples they must follow him even if it costs them their lives and unsurprisingly this proves to be impossible for them to do they fail drastically in mark's narrative and run from the scene as jesus is arrested peter had been determined to stay by him unto death but even he was not able to admit to knowing jesus at that crucial moment the strange thing is that jesus made it clear that it is impossible to enter the kingdom of god without this sort of radical discipleship in this narrative study of salvation in the gospel of mark this conundrum is studied closely with surprising results an investigation of various socio historical aspects of mark's background elucidate the connection that mark makes between the death of jesus and the following of the disciples and a study of mark's narrative as a whole shows that mark provides hope for those without courage to follow if they continue to look and listen carefully the mystery will be unveiled to them we no longer need to separate paul from judaism in order to claim his christianness writes gabriele boccaccini nor do we need to separate him from the early jesus movement in order to state his jewishness with this guiding principle boccaccini unpacks the implications of paul s belonging simultaneously to judaism and christianity to arrive at the surprising and provocative conclusion that there are in fact three paths to salvation for jews adherence to torah for gentiles good works according to conscience and natural law for all sinners forgiveness through faith in jesus christ paul s three paths to salvation is an attempt to reconcile the many facets of paul s complex identity while reclaiming him from accusations of intolerance boccaccini s work in reestablishing paul as a messenger of god s mercy to sinners is an important contribution to the ongoing conversation about paul s place in the contemporary pluralistic world
