Writing Short Scripts 1999-08-01 this referential collection of essays is an important guide to the emergence and development of literary journalism through the centuries the book begins with the defining of genres literature and journalism which blur the lines between them it also gives an insight into the theories of narratology some practitioners included in this book are great american writers like john hersey truman capote norman mailer and don delillo these literary journalists bring to life both major as well trivial issues of the society new journalists coalesce all the fictional techniques with the journalistic methods to present a unique and sophisticated style which requires extensive research and even more careful reporting than done in the typical news articles the book closes with the concluding thoughts followed by list of works cited personal writing can be risky for anyone but for military veterans especially those suffering from post traumatic stress sharing stories can trigger painful and disturbing flashbacks writing is also risky for the ego it is one thing to write a military story especially one based on authentic experiences it is quite another to muster the courage to share that story with others for critique and feedback award winning journalist and author tracy crow presents a roadmap for writing an authentic persuasive military story drawing from her personal experiences and those of other veteran writers and from the insights of noteworthy writing and teaching professionals on point is the guide crow wishes she d had when she first began writing about her military experience no previous writing guide specifically addresses the unique challenges and rewards facing soldiers who want to craft their military story with courage and candor

On Point 2015-09-01 this book brings together contemporary authors and well respected creative writing instructors and theorists to explore ways creativity in composition may be encouraged in student writers the question in this anthology is not can writing be taught but how can we inspire students to embrace the creative process no matter what they write Curious Attractions 2005-05-20 a former student once wrote to dave winans thanks for understanding that we re kids and yet not treating us like we are with that sentiment in mind winans wrote moondog verse or what he refers to as one independent school teacher s manifesto and manual for teaching creative writing to middle schoolers while offering advice on how to approach and treat students with respect moondog verse provides lessons and exercises for creative writing assignments as well as thoughts and observations on how to excite young people about the writing process emphasizing the use of good models relevant topics and personal experience as resource moondog verse encourages teachers to set high standards while allowing students the opportunity to express their ideas and feelings about themselves and the world around them
