social memory studies offer an under utilised lens through which to approach the texts of the hebrew bible in this volume the range of associations and symbolic values evoked by twenty one characters representing ancestors and founders kings female characters and prophets are explored by a group of international scholars the presumed social settings when most of the books comprising the tanak had come into existence and were being read together as an emerging authoritative corpus are the late persian and early hellenistic periods it is in this context then that we can profitably explore the symbolic values and networks of meanings that biblical figures encoded for the religious community of israel in these eras drawing on our limited knowledge of issues and life in yehud and judean diasporic communities in these periods this is the first period when scholars can plausibly try to understand the mnemonic effects of these texts which were understood to encode the collective experience members of the community providing them with a common identity by offering a sense of shared past while defining aspirations for the future the introduction and the concluding essay focus on theoretical and methodological issues that arise from analysing the hebrew bible in the framework of memory studies the individual character studies as a group provide a kaleidoscopic view of the potentialities of using a social memory approach in biblical studies with the essay on cyrus written by a classicist in order to provide an enriching perspective on how one biblical figure was construed in greek social memory for comparative purposes between death and a new birth on earth the human being lives through a long cosmic existence in the higher worlds this is mirrored in the earthly life rudolf steiner described its division into seven year periods and the connection with the pre birth existence in the planetary spheres apart from this there is another division including higher spheres of the fixed stars rudolf steiner only gave us a hint in line with this and based on his own experiences on the path of spirit discipleship the author of this book gives examples how these different stages of life between death and rebirth can express themselves in the course of earthly life he also explains in which of the seven year periods the conditions for learning something about one's own previous incarnation are particularly favourable in addition he describes the connection of the later seven year periods of earthly life with the life spirit budhi as well as the preparation of mankind for receiving it by a development which rudolf steiner called the gradual getting younger of mankind and which started at the times of the primeval semites in ancient atlantis for everyone who follows or aspires to the path of spiritual discipleship or is interested in biography work a highly recommended book first published in 1987 contemporary psychology is increasingly diversified pluralistic and specialized and most psychologists venture beyond the confines of their substantive specialty only rarely yet psychologists with different specialties encounter similar problems ask similar questions and share similar concerns unfortunately there are very few arenas available for the expression or exploration of what is common across psychological subdisciplines the crosscurrents in contemporary psychology series is intended to serve as such a forum the chief aim of this series is to provide integrated perspectives on supradisciplinary themes in psychology despite its contemporary diversity and high degree of specialization psychology embraces many phenomena that are of interest across subdisciplines largely because of the generality and ubiquity of those phenomena the sensitive period is one sensitivity to different kinds of experience varies over the life cycle of an organism
