Language of Composition + IX Visualizing Composition 2.0 2012-07-17 los angeles has nourished a dazzling array of independent cinemas avant garde and art cinema ethnic and industrial films pornography documentaries and many other far flung corners of film culture

this glorious panoramic history of film production outside the commercial studio system reconfigures los angeles rather than new york as the true center of avant garde cinema in the united states as he brilliantly delineates the cultural perimeter of the film business from the earliest days of cinema to the contemporary scene david james argues that avant garde and minority filmmaking in los angeles has in fact been the prototypical attempt to create emancipatory and progressive culture drawing from urban history and geography local news reporting and a wide range of film criticism james gives astute analyzes of scores of films many of which are to found only in archives he also looks at some of the most innovative moments in hollywood revealing the full extent of the cross fertilization the occurred between the studio system and films created outside it throughout he demonstrates that los angeles has been in the aesthetic and social vanguard in all cinematic periods from the socialist cinemas of the early teens and 1930s to the personal cinemas of psychic self investigation in the 1940s to attempts in the 1960s to revitalize the industry with the counterculture s utopian visions and to the 1970s when african americans asian americans latinos women gays and lesbians worked to create cinemas of their own james takes us up to the 1990s and beyond to explore new forms of art cinema that are now transforming the representation of southern california s geography
