remote sensing is collecting and interpreting information on targets without being in physical contact with the objects aircraft satellites etc are the major platforms for remote sensing observations unlike electrical magnetic and gravity surveys that measure force fields remote sensing technology is commonly referred to methods that employ electromagnetic energy as radio waves light and heat as the means of detecting and measuring target characteristics geoscience is a study of nature world from the core of the earth to the depths of oceans and to the outer space this branch of study can help mitigate volcanic eruptions floods landslides etc terrible human life disaster and help develop ground water mineral ores fossil fuels and construction materials also it studies physical chemical reactions to understand the distribution of the nature resources therefore the geoscience encompass earth atmospheric oceanography pedology petrology mineralogy hydrology and geology this book covers latest and futuristic developments in remote sensing novel theory and applications by numerous scholars researchers and experts it is organized into 26 excellent chapters which include optical and infrared modeling microwave scattering propagation forests and vegetation soils ocean temperature geographic information object classification data mining image processing passive optical sensor multispectral and hyperspectral sensing lidar radiometer instruments calibration active microwave and sar processing last but not the least this book presented chapters that highlight frontier works in remote sensing information processing i am very pleased to have leaders in the field to prepare and contribute their most current research and development work although no attempt is made to cover every topic in remote sensing and geoscience these entire 26 remote sensing technology chapters shall give readers a good insight all topics listed are equal important and significant
