this book is a significant and original contribution to the ongoing conversation on modernity it uses the creative and critical works of nigerian playwright and novelist femi euba to demonstrate the place and function of african cultures in modernity and makes the case for the vibrancy of such cultures in the shaping and constitution of the modern world in addition to a critique of euba s fifty year artistic career this book offers an account of euba s formative relationship with the 1986 nobel prize for literature winner wole soyinka during the promising days of the nigerian theatre in the immediate post independence period and the effect of this relationship on euba s artistic choices and reflections euba contributes to our understanding of africa s negotiation of modernity in significant ways especially in his sensitive reading of esu the yoruba god of fate and chance as an artistic consciousness whose historical and ideological mobility during new world slavery during africa s colonial period and in the manifestations in the black diaspora today emblemizes the process we call modernity by using ritual myth and satire as avenues to the debate on modernity euba lays emphasis on the transformative possibilities at the crossroads of history his works engage the psychological interconnections between old gods and new worlds and the dialogic relationship between tradition and modernity delineating the philosophical and literary debates that reject an easy division between a stereotypically traditional africa and a modern west the author shows how euba s plays and novel engage the entwined and intimate relationships between the modern and the traditional in contemporary africa and thereby she asserts the global resonance of euba s african and specifically yoruba conception of the world by meticulously collecting cataloguing and critiquing euba s works osagie models a new way of practicing african literary studies and invites us to glimpse narrative genius on the continent that she firmly believes african scholars should both promote and celebrate volume 54 sermons 3073 3124 charles spurgeon 19 june 1834 31 january 1892 is one of the church s most famous preachers and christianity s foremost prolific writers called the prince of preachers he was one of england s most notable ministers for most of the second half of the nineteenth century and he still remains highly influential among christians of different denominations today his sermons have spread all over the world and his many printed works have been cherished classics for decades in his lifetime spurgeon preached to more than 10 million people often up to ten times each week he was the pastor of the congregation of the new park street chapel later the metropolitan tabernacle in london for 38 years he was an inexhaustible author of various kinds of works including sermons commentaries an autobiography as well as books on prayer devotionals magazines poetry hymns and more spurgeon was known to produce powerful sermons of penetrating thought and divine inspiration and his oratory and writing skills held his audiences spellbound many christians have discovered spurgeon s messages to be among the best in christian literature edward walford wrote in old and new london volume 6 1878 quoting an article from the times regarding one of spurgeon s meetings at surrey fancy a congregation consisting of 10 000 souls streaming into the hall mounting the galleries humming buzzing and swarming a mighty hive of bees eager to secure at first the best places and at last any place at all after waiting more than half an hour for if you wish to have a seat you must be there at least that space of time in advance mr spurgeon ascended his tribune to the hum and rush and trampling of men succeeded a low concentrated thrill and murmur of devotion which seemed to run at once like an electric current through the breast of every one present and by this magnetic chain the preacher held us fast bound for about two hours it is not my purpose to give a summary of his discourse it is enough to say of his voice that its power and volume are sufficient to reach every one in that vast assembly of his language that it is neither high flown nor homely of his style that it is at times familiar at times declamatory but always happy and often eloquent of his doctrine that neither the calvinist nor the baptist appears in the forefront of the battle which is waged by mr spurgeon with relentless animosity and with gospel weapons against irreligion cant hypocrisy pride and those secret bosom sins which so easily beset a man in daily life and to sum up all in a word it is enough to say of the man himself that he impresses you with a perfect conviction of his sincerity more than a hundred years after his death charles spurgeon s legacy continues to effectively inspire the church around the world for this reason delmarva publications has chosen to publish the complete works of charles spurgeon the confession the church makes to the world sits oddly in the contemporary cultural complex intellectual fashions in the marketplace of ideas have moved beyond an accommodation of biblical theological categories philosophy is unsure of its status in an amorphous postmodernism and theology threatens to degenerate into intellectual experimentation they have become mutually suspicious and hesitant of conversation but a heavy fault lies with the church s own confessional status for what is it the church has to say to the world has it preserved confessional continuity with the reformation theology that rediscovered its biblical foundations and liberated it from intellectual and confessional shackles has the church surrendered the possibility of relevance by having lost its own historic identity and is it necessary to conclude as a result that contemporary culture is no longer penetrable by any word from the old wells of divine disclosure in this brief but challenging book douglas vickers brings the christian confession to the forefront of consideration and reestablishes a theology grounded in historic verities sustained by the scriptural declarations in straightforward and accessible terms being and belief addresses the meaning of biblical truth for christian understanding and christian life begun in 2010 as part of the histories of literatures in european languages series sponsored by the international comparative literature association the current project on new literary hybrids in the age of multimedia expression recognizes the global shift toward the visual and the virtual in all areas of textuality the printed verbal text is increasingly joined with the visual often electronic text this shift has opened up new domains of human achievement in art and culture the international roster of 24 contributors to this volume pursue a broad range of issues under four sets of questions that allow a larger conversation to emerge both inside the volume s sections and between them the four sections cover 1 multimedia productions in theoretical and historical perspective 2 regional and intercultural projects 3 forms and genres and 4 readers and rewriters in multimedia environments the essays included in this volume are examples of the kinds of projects and inquiries that have become possible at the interface between literature and other media new and old they emphasize the extent to which hypertextual multimedia and virtual reality technologies have enhanced the sociality of reading and writing enabling more people to interact than ever before at the same time however they warn that as long as these technologies are used to reinforce old habits of reading writing they will deliver modest results one of the major tasks pursued by the contributors to this volume is to integrate literature in the global informational environment where it can function as an imaginative partner teaching its interpretive competencies to other components of the cultural landscape
