shark obsessed only spends every summer with her family on the coast this year her parents have signed her up for sailing lessons hoping to teach her some water safety while they re busy with her baby brother only is excited to be on the water but she has other ideas about how she s going to spend her time there rather than learning to tie knots and batten down the hatches she s going to use her tablet to track delta a great white shark known to frequent the area only s misplaced enthusiasm repeatedly gets her in hot water with her instructor can only redeem herself with her sailing crew when she has a chance to use her shark tracking skills to save some actual wildlife in danger sharks are intriguing and beautiful creatures but they can also be deadly as we humans have explored the world s oceans and exploited them for tourism and recreation we have found ourselves coming into contact with more and more sharks and the outcome can be fatal from the seychelles to south africa and australia to north america tourists divers and surfers have seemingly found themselves under increased threat from unprovoked shark attacks fatal attacks have occurred in locations that were previously thought to be safe and in late 2010 the egyptian resort of sharm el sheikh was rocked by an incredible five shark attacks in a matter of weeks but are sharks really ruthless vicious killers or are they simply reacting to humans invading their habitat has the number of shark attacks increased in recent years what can be done to prevent shark attacks all these questions and more are answered in this fascinating book jamie loves sharks he reads about them he talks about them sometimes he even pretends to be a shark too bad no one else wants to join his shark club his peers and parents are quickly growing tired of his current obsession when jamie s teacher mr claxton brings in a new class pet jamie is put in charge but jamie has an accident while feeding it and everyone becomes upset with him he needs to find a way to make things right in the end he comes up with a solution that pleases both his teacher and classmates a solution that also gives jamie an opportunity to share his newest obsession lizards the sharks ancient or modern real or imaginary have always been with us and will probably remain with us forever they appear not only in movies and literature but in countless permutations of size shape and materials permeating our daily lives with their silent menace in a sense humans live in a world replete with sharks not vice versa thus richard ellis sets about chronicling and debunking the myths of sharks throughout history from 18th century art to the phenomena of jaws the shark has remained the indomitable aggressor of the deep the last demon of humankind the image of the shark and the fear it inspires infiltrates our daily lives with its mythical power and strength but it is not man who should fear the shark our need to dominate these predators is destroying them and their habitat through hundreds of full color images ellis proves the necessity of preserving these majestic creatures as curator of the ft lauderdale museum of art s exhibition entitled shark debuting may 2012 ellis adeptly turns these sleek efficient hunters from monsters of the deep into rare beautiful forces of nature this fascinating reference book delves into the origins of the vernacular and scientific names of sharks rays skates and chimeras each entry offers a concise biography revealing the hidden stories and facts behind each species name twenty metres below water the oceanographer françois sarano came face to face with a five and a half metre great white shark seduced by the gentle elegance of this majestic creature sarano experienced a profound sense of affinity with her as they swam side by side shoulder to shoulder eye to eye cutting a single figure through the ocean depths it was an experience which made him realize the depth of our ignorance of the lives of sharks leading him to become a passionate advocate for their protection drawing on the latest scientific research on the biology and ethology of sharks and their exceptional characteristics this book aims to break through the barrier of prejudice and to pay homage to their true nature representing a last vestige of wildness their populations are nevertheless under threat like so many species they have been hunted and exploited by humans sarano argues for a change of mindset in which we lose ourselves in the world of the other so that each living entity human and non human can take their rightful place in the broader global ecosystem in the newest mystery from nationally bestselling author joanna carl a dive into house flipping becomes a deadly flop
