you purchased your iphone through a major provider like verizon at t or t mobile then your phone is most likely locked uptight in other words you can t just switch your cell phone provider insert a new sim card and expect your phone to start working on a new network that my friends would be too easy tiing viit when cell phone users change between compatible wireless service providers they have the option of unlocking their phones to use on their new service provider s network giving consumers greater freedom and flexibility while increasing incentives for service providers to innovate unlocking a cell phone allows consumers to move their cell phone from one network to another compatible network some cell phones may contain software that prevents them from being used on different mobile networks even when those networks are technologically compatible all you have to do is meet the carrier s simple unlocking requirement and verizon will automatically unlock your phone it s that easy verizon s phone unlocking policy verizon s unlocking requirements are not much more complicated verizon will unlock the following devices phones purchase directly from
