The Universitas Project 2006 this volume publishes in their entirety the various components of a conference hosted by moma in 1972 the universitas project the distinguished participants drawn from a wide range of scholarly and artistic disciplines engaged in a multidisciplinary debate on the future of design and design institutions in the postindustrial era addressing issues and ideas still relevant today this book makes a particularly fertile chapter in the intellectual history of the museum available for the first time to scholars the architecture and design community and the general public

The New Institutional Politics 2002-01-31 the new institutional politics is a comparative study of the impact of political institutions upon outcomes and covers some of the major themes in the new institutionalism it looks at how various democratic institutions like konkordanzdemokratie or corporatism promote better outcomes than westminster institutions the evaluation of the performance of political institutions covers the executive the legislature and the judicial system the book also looks at economic outcomes such as affluence and gdp growth as well as social ones like income distribution and quality of life it examines the problems of institutional effects in democracies and dictatorships and provides analysis of some of the major models in political science this is an exploration of how political institutions matter for political economic and social outcomes it estimates their impact in relation to other major factors such as culture and social structure it is written for political scientists and graduates studying comparative politics

Proceedings of the 3rd Universitas Lampung International Conference on Social Sciences (ULICoSS 2022) 2023-05-03 this is an open access book the 3rd universitas lampung international conference on social sciences ulicoss 2022 ulicoss 2022 is an international conference organized by the institute for research and community services universitas lampung indonesia the event took place on 6th 7th september 2022 in bandar lampung city on the indonesian island of sumatra this event will adopt a hybrid working model combining an in person event with an online meeting via zoom attendees and presenters are expected to interact in this way using technology to connect to global networks as has been widely stated in the literature a number of reports and papers have examined the pandemic's negative effects with the majority of work to date focusing on covid 19's negative impact on psychological well-being thus social adjustment is required for resilience in order to adapt to and change in the face of adversity in other words it is clear that social adjustment which includes the specific behaviors and abilities that people use to deal with daily problems and adapt to changing circumstances is critical for global resilience today as such this international conference which will feature five invited keynote speakers from the czech republic hungary indonesia and japan is intended to serve as a forum for the dissemination of specific alternative and significant breakthroughs in rapid social adjustments for global resilience with an emphasis on global society social welfare and development and innovative communication among other topics therefore we invite scholars academics researchers experts practitioners and university students to participate and share perspectives experiences and research findings by submitting papers on a variety of topics relevant to the conference's theme and scope all abstracts and papers submitted for consideration will undergo a double blind peer review process to ensure their quality relevance and originality

Social and Cultural Dynamics 2017-09-29 this classic work is a revised and abridged version in a single volume of the work which more than any other catapulted pitirim sorokin into being one of the most famed figures of twentieth century sociology its original publication occurred before world war ii this revised version written some twenty years later reflects a postwar environment earlier than most sorokin took the consequences of the breakdown of colonialism into account in discussing the renaissance of the great cultures of african and asian civilization other than perhaps f s c northrop no individual better incorporated the new role of the indian chinese japanese and arabic peoples in this postwar world sorokin came to view social and cultural dynamics in terms of three major processes a major shift of mankind's creative center from europe to the pacific a progressive disintegration of the sensate culture and finally the first blush of the emergence and growth of a new idealistic sociocultural order this volume is perhaps most famous for revealing sorokin s remarkable efforts to understand the relationship of war and peace to the process of social and political change contrary to received wisdom he shows that the magnitude and depth of war grows in periods of social cultural and territorial expansion by the nation in short war is just as often a function of development as it is of social decay this long unavailable volume remains one of the major touchstones by which we can judge efforts to create an international social science there are few areas of social or cultural life that are not covered from painting art and music to the ethos of universalism and particularism these are terms which sorokin introduced into the literature long before the rise of functional doctrines for all those interested in cultural and historical processes this volume provides the essence of sorokin s remarkably prescient effort to achieve sociological transcendence by takin

Universitas 1998-05-12 believing that current educational policies and practices in american institutions of higher learning contribute to an incoherent disjunctive and wasteful four year experience for many undergraduates the author provides a sense of new direction to aid in the restructuring and reform of undergraduate education in america the primary question of the work is how can the years of undergraduate education empower the student with the knowledge and integrated set of skills needed for a lifetime of learning and productive work boudreau focuses on the primary responsibility of all institutions of higher learning to provide a superior undergraduate education all other functions of a university should be secondary to this commitment unfortunately this basic premise seems lost today this work argues that universities must undergo significant reform and renewal especially at the undergraduate level if they are to prepare students successfully for the future

Universitas 1989 metaphysics and ontology feature among the traditional and fundamental concerns of philosophers gaining a picture of the world and the kind of objects that exist out there is for most philosophers past and present a preliminary aim upon which other theoretical activities depend in fact it seems that sound conclusions on topics relevant to ethics aesthetics psychology and common and scientific knowledge can be achieved only after one has been given a picture of that sort what is worth stressing though is that from time to time the tribunal of history has managed to put its finger on some flawed conclusions to take a time worn example who would now accept plato s claim that the spatiotemporal world is just an imperfect copy of a world of abstract objects conceived of as perfect unchanging models of concrete things the picture plato gave us is nothing but a myth an account which is too far away from what common sense and science could accept too detached from the usual ways of conducting a rational discussion therefore pictures of this kind appear to be supported by nothing but dogmas i e uncompromising principles taken as true without any previous critical analysis and plato has no shortage of company issues of this kind revolving around metaphysics and ontology are tackled in the essays in this volume which approach a secular debate in fresh and original ways providing the necessary tools for clearing the field of unpalatable metaphysical and ontological items

Metaphysics and Ontology Without Myths 2014-10-02 building institution chronicles the expansion of architecture as a profession and discipline in the postmodern era kim förster traces the compelling history of the institute for architecture and urban studies which was active in new york from 1967 to 1985 drawing on extensive archival research and oral histories he constructs a collective biography that details the institute s diverse roles and the dynamic interplay between research and design education culture and publishing by exploring the transformation of cultural production into a practice as well as the culturalization and global postmodernization of architecture the volume contributes significantly to the institutional history of architecture

Development Outlook of Education and Migration 2023-12-23 in order to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary the third lustrum of our center we at cheps decided to collectively write a book on the issue of how higher education institutions deal with the demand for change institutional change is without any doubt one of the burning issues for researchers in higher education and policy studies in general but even more so for administrators at the institutional level institutional leadership deans and planners of higher education in public life government agencies intermediary organisations international organisations whereas the lustrumbook we wrote for our second lustrum concentrated on comparative policy studies many of them focusing on comparisons between different national higher education systems this time the object of our analyses is the institution itself today s higher education institutions are faced by demands from a multitude of actors from inside the institution students staff as well as from the institution s environment governments employers research councils sponsors these demands require changes in policy practice systems and culture the ways in which institutions respond to these demands and how their behaviour may be understood and predicted is the challenge tackled by the authors of this volume each from their own perspective and each looking at different aspects of the educational organisation

Proceeding International Annual Conference on Islamic Economics and Law 2020 2020-12-15 this work was born out of a concern that the advancement of society's underlying moral strength is becoming increasingly weaker due to this deficiency there is a call to educators particularly at the college and university levels to give careful and collective attention to the three groundings that are consonant with well functioning societies morality rationality and personal responsibility the book discusses the universitas model the historic function of an advanced academic community as a reference for dialogue and reasoning in the pursuit of moral excellence dr hostetter articulates that higher educational institutions should seek to understand and restore this model with the ultimate aim of formulating a meaningful institutional worldview denoting entirety and signifying all together universitas requires that a high measure of solidarity should be demonstrated the work outlines potential steps and essential aspects of the universitas idea that institutions might consider useful an overarching goal of universitas is examined under the rubric the judicious use of knowledge this implies the necessity that collective stands regarding key values be taken a basic premise is that colleges and universities should devote mindful attention to discerning the highest good as well as the supportive goods that are required to achieve the highest good for all examples of possible institutionally discerned goods are reviewed in several chapters according to religious ideological and institutionally unique categories
