conquests according to international and humanitarian norms and under mandate from the league of nations as the guardians shows this decision had enormous consequences the allies sought to use the league to safeguard imperial authority but that authority was undermined by the mechanisms for international oversight they had themselves created colonial nationalists and humanitarians exploited new rights of petition or opportunities for publicity to expose abuses or scandals germans resentful of the loss of their colonies and italians eager to found a new empire arrived in geneva to demand a repartition of the spoils as imperial politicians wearied of continual scandals and crises revolts in south west africa syria samoa and palestine famine in rwanda labour abuses in new guinea extortionate oil contracts in iraq they began to question whether independent states might be easier to deal with than territories subject to international scrutiny drawing on research in four continents and dozens of archives and bringing to life a global network of nationalists humanitarians international bureaucrats and imperial statesmen the guardians offers an entirely new interpretation of the importance of international organizations in the emergence of the modern world order today almost a generation has passed since the iran iraq war and the memory of it is set to diminish with each passing generation the following questions emerge can we say that the gradual disappearance of war s memory means that increasingly iranians will see the iran iraq war solely as an historical event how can we defend or reject this idea today with which elements and values should we look at the iran iraq war memorials and ceremonies to what extent will war museums and materials culture be influenced by these new values in the period during and immediately after the iran iraq war 1980 88 national bereavement and commemoration of martyrs was neither apparent in common state policy nor a social need even at the turn of the 21st century anyone walking through iranian cities many of which had been the main scene of the bloody massacre and direct targets of the iraqi republican guard will have found traces of the terrible almost unimaginable human losses however today s iranians can see modern war memorials and monuments in many parts of the urban and rural landscape yet at the same time the changing landscape has separated iranians from such remnants of the violence it can be argued that many people in their wish to look forward to a more hopeful future do not wish to be reminded of this period in iranian history this book was originally published as a special issue of visual anthropology the author of hebrews is not preoccupied with the concepts of the hellenistic philosophers but with the ideas of the ancient world is frequently conveyed by the notion of sacred space which the worshipper wishes to approach in order to gain access to the deity standing as he does within the religious tradition of judaism the author of hebrews inherited notions of sacred space whereby it was identified with the land jerusalem zion and the sanctuary he shares priestly concern so isaacs argues to guard the sacred to protect it from the profane and to regulate the means whereby the worshipper can approach the holy there is an increasing hunger among catholics to study the bible in depth and in a way that integrates scripture with catholic doctrine worship and daily life in october 2008 a meeting of the world synod of bishops scheduled by pope benedict xvi will focus on the word of god in the life and mission of the church coinciding with that meeting is the launch of the catholic commentary on sacred scripture ccss a series that responds to the desire of catholics to access the living word of god the gospel of mark is the first of seventeen volumes which will cover the entire new testament written by trusted catholic biblical scholars these commentaries interpret scripture in the light of catholic tradition accessibly written yet substantive the ccss fills a gap in the available literature by offering commentaries that cover more than brief study guides but are less daunting than scholarly commentaries in this addition to the successful catholic commentary on sacred scripture ccss series two esteemed scholars interpret galatians from within the living tradition of the church the ccss relates scripture to christian life today is faithfully catholic and is supplemented by features designed to help pastoral ministers lay readers and students understand the bible more deeply and use it more effectively its attractive packaging and accessible writing style make it a series to own and to read the insightful studies contained in this book will be of significant value to anyone interested in experiencing more deeply the intersections between materiality and spirituality part 1 introduces readers into egyptian israelite christian and hindu temples shrines or sanctuaries part 2 helps readers understand how items of colored fabrics clothing robes and veils convey ritual meanings part 3 reports two panel discussions that exemplify the pathway of fruitful conversation matter and spirit might seem to some to be polar opposites but as these studies by distinguished and diverse scholars demonstrate spiritual experiences are constructively defined and refined within the coordinates of place and time sacred space as well as sacred cloth define borders but not necessarily boundaries between the sacred and the profane these material coordinates physically enclose and also spiritually disclose they both symbolize and synergize as they encompass and expansively inspire these original and enjoyable presentations will help all readers to hold tenaciously to the tenets and also the tensions inherent in physical spiritual experiences

Indigenous Perspectives on Sacred Natural Sites 2017-03-27 everyday life and the sacred offers gender sensitive interdisciplinary perspectives from the fields of feminist theology and religious studies on the everyday and the sacred the volume aims to re configure the current domain of religion and gender studies

The Poesis of Peace 1879 the first world war threw the imperial order into crisis new states emerged from the great european land empires while germany s african and pacific colonies and the ottoman provinces in the middle east fell into allied hands britain france belgium japan and the british dominions wanted to keep the new states but woodrow wilson and the millions converted to the ideal of self determination thought otherwise at the paris peace conference of 1919 the allies agreed reluctantly to govern their new conquests according to international and humanitarian norms and under mandate from the league of nations as the guardians shows this decision had enormous consequences the allies sought to use the league to safeguard imperial authority but that authority was undermined by the mechanisms for international oversight they had themselves created colonial nationalists and humanitarians exploited new rights of petition or opportunities for publicity to expose abuses or scandals germans resentful of the loss of their colonies and italians eager to found a new empire arrived in geneva to demand a repartition of the spoils as imperial politicians wearied of continual scandals and crises revolts in south west africa syria samoa and palestine famine in rwanda labour abuses in new guinea extortionate oil contracts in iraq they began to question whether independent states might be easier to deal with than territories subject to international scrutiny drawing on research in four continents and dozens of archives and bringing to life a global network of nationalists humanitarians international bureaucrats and imperial statesmen the guardians offers an entirely new interpretation of the importance of international organizations in the emergence of the modern world order

Sacred Books of the East 2001-10-26 today almost a generation has passed since the iran iraq war and the memory of it is set to diminish with each passing generation the following questions emerge can we say that the gradual disappearance of war s memory means that increasingly iranians will see the iran iraq war solely as an historical event how can we defend or reject this idea today with which elements and values should we look at the iran iraq war memorials and ceremonies to what extent will war museums and materials culture be influenced by these new values in the period during and immediately after the iran iraq war 1980 88 national bereavement and commemoration of martyrs was neither apparent in common state policy nor a social need even at the turn of the 21st century anyone walking through iranian cities many of which had been the main scene of the bloody massacre and direct targets of the iraqi republican guard will have found traces of the terrible almost unimaginable human losses however today s iranians can see modern war memorials and monuments in many parts of the urban and rural landscape yet at the same time the changing landscape has separated iranians from such remnants of the violence it can be argued that many people in their wish to look forward to a more hopeful future do not wish to be reminded of this period in iranian history this book was originally published as a special issue of visual anthropology

Sacred Books of the East 2009 the author of hebrews is not preoccupied with the concepts of the hellenistic philosophers but with the ideas of the ancient world is frequently conveyed by the notion of sacred space which the worshipper wishes to approach in order to gain access to the deity standing as he does within the religious tradition of judaism the author of hebrews inherited notions of sacred space whereby it was identified with the land jerusalem zion and the sanctuary he shares priestly concern so isaacs argues to guard the sacred to protect it from the profane and to regulate the means whereby the worshipper can approach the holy

Nature, Space and the Sacred 2016-04-26 there is an increasing hunger among catholics to study the bible in depth and in a way that integrates scripture with catholic doctrine worship and daily life in october 2008 a meeting of the world synod of bishops scheduled by pope benedict xvi will focus on the word of god in the life and mission of the church coinciding with that meeting is the launch of the catholic commentary on sacred scripture ccss a series that responds to the desire of catholics to access the living word of god the gospel of mark is the first of seventeen volumes which will cover the entire new testament written by trusted catholic biblical scholars these commentaries interpret scripture in the light of catholic tradition accessibly written yet substantive the ccss fills a gap in the available literature by offering commentaries that cover more than brief study guides but are less daunting than scholarly commentaries

The Koryak 1810 in this addition to the successful catholic commentary on sacred scripture ccss series two esteemed scholars interpret galatians from within the living tradition of the church the ccss relates scripture to christian life today is faithfully catholic and is supplemented by features designed to help pastoral ministers lay readers and students understand the bible more deeply and use it more effectively its attractive packaging and accessible writing style make it a series to own and to read

The Works of the English Poets, from Chaucer to Cowper; Including the Series Edited, with Prefaces, Biographical and Critical, by Dr. Samuel Johnson: and the Most Approved Translations. The Additional Lives by Alexander Chalm 2024-03-29 the insightful studies contained in this book will be of significant value to anyone interested in experiencing more deeply the intersections between materiality and spirituality part 1 introduces readers into egyptian israelite christian and hindu temples shrines or sanctuaries part 2 helps readers understand how items of colored fabrics clothing robes and veils convey ritual meanings part 3 reports two panel discussions that exemplify the pathway of fruitful conversation matter and spirit might seem to some to be polar opposites but as these studies by distinguished and diverse scholars demonstrate spiritual experiences are constructively defined and refined within the coordinates of place and time sacred space as well as sacred cloth define borders but not necessarily boundaries between the sacred and the profane these material coordinates physically enclose and also spiritually disclose they both symbolize and synergize as they encompass and expansively inspire these original and enjoyable presentations will help all readers to hold tenaciously to the tenets and also the tensions inherent in physical spiritual experiences
