the last and most intriguing book of the ramayana the utara kanda is rendered here by noted sanskrit scholar arshia sattar in vivid sensuous detail first composed around 500 bce it tells the story of an unjustly exiled prince the abduction of his wife from the forest by a ten headed demon king his alliance with a band of magical monkeys and the internal and external battles he must fight to win back his wife and keep her india s great sanskrit epic brings to readers the classic dilemmas every individual faces love versus duty destiny and free will the public and the private self the pull of family and the right to personal happiness these universal problems are layered with the quintessentially indian ideas of karma action and dharma duty the book explores what it means to be human in a complex and demanding world considering the parameters and contexts in which we make the decisions that will determine the color and tenor of our lives the choices that make us who we are it also offers a great albeit tragic love story a story of the demands and pressures of love and how we might fail those that we love most accompanied by sattar s thoughtful essays weighing the moral complexity of this most enduring of epics this translation crystallizes her deep and intimate knowledge of the ramayana in a way that is utterly compelling
