struggle as a natural part of the reading process instruction occurs in three phases skill holistically developing skills and strategies necessary for students to comprehend text will creating the mindsets motivations and habits necessary to engage fully with texts thrill fostering the thrill of comprehension and using the knowledge for something else why do we assess reading what do we assess when we assess reading how where and when do we assess reading reading instruction and assessment expert peter afflerbach addresses these questions and much more in the 3rd edition of understanding and using reading assessment k 12 using the currv model to evaluate reading assessment methods including reading inventories teacher questioning performance assessment and high stakes reading tests afflerbach considers the consequences and usefulness of each method the roles and responsibilities of key stakeholders and the reliability and validity of the assessments in addition he examines four important but often overlooked aspects of reading assessment assessment accommodation for english language learners and students with special needs assessment of noncognitive aspects of reading such as motivation engagement self concept and self efficacy the use of formative and summative assessment the importance of self assessment in building reading independence the book provides detailed case studies from all grade levels to illustrate reading assessment done well it also includes 15 reproducible forms and checklists that teachers and administrators can use to optimize their reading assessment efforts students are expected to read increasingly complex texts and to complete increasingly complex reading related tasks to demonstrate their growth as readers this book offers teachers and administrators alike a clear path to helping students meet those expectations this book is a co publication of ascd and ilara new to the 3rd edition new chapter formative and summative assessment three significantly revised chapters performance assessment assessment accommodation for english learners and students with special needs accommodation and reading assessment in 2nd edition assessing the other important noncognitive aspects of reading fifteen reproducible and downloadable forms and checklists managing the new tools in k 12 teaching and learning how technology can enable school improvement is about how to manage technology for learning at the district and school levels it provides an overview of the components of learning technology these include student devices networking software productivity toolkits electronic curricula and resources and data system infrastructure and it discusses how we can manage our technology efforts more effectively to help our students attain the benefits of this technology the book concludes with case studies of how this is being done at pioneering districts we are now at a tipping point in implementing learning technology on a larger scale this is happening very quickly historically learning technology was driven by a strategy of technology integration where we called on individual teachers to each determine how to use technology in their classes and make changes in their own ways of working but to successfully implement technology on the scale we need requires top down as well as bottom up efforts managing the new tools in k 12 teaching and learning focuses on how districts and schools can now use technology to bring about the big improvements in learning we are all striving for pass the ftce reading k 12 test are you that support reading knowledge of oral and written language acquisition and beginning reading knowledge of phonics and word recognition knowledge of vocabulary acquisition and use knowledge of reading fluency and reading comprehension knowledge of reading program development implementation and coordination every student deserves a great teacher not by chance but by design douglas fisher nancy frey john hattie what if someone slipped you a piece of paper listing the literacy practices that ensure students demonstrate more than a year's worth of learning for a year spent in school would you keep the paper or throw it away we think you'd keep it and that's precisely why acclaimed educators douglas fisher nancy frey and john hattie wrote visible learning for literacy they know teachers will want to apply hattie's head turning synthesis of more than 15 years of research involving millions of students which he used to identify the instructional routines that have the biggest impact on student learning these practices are visible for teachers and students to see because their purpose has been made clear they are implemented at the right moment in a student's learning and their effect is tangible yes the aha moments made visible by design with their trademark clarity and command of the research and dozens of classroom scenarios to make it all replicable these authors apply hattie's research and show you how to use the right approach at the right time so that you can more intentionally design classroom experiences that hit the surface deep and transfer phases of learning and more expertly see when a student is ready to dive from surface to deep which routines are most effective at specific phases of learning including word sorts concept mapping close reading annotating discussion formative assessment feedback collaborative learning reciprocal teaching and many more why the 8 mind frames for teachers apply so well to curriculum planning and can inspire you to be a change agent in students' lives and part of a faculty that embraces the idea that visible teaching is a continual evaluation of one's impact on student's learning teachers it's time we embrace the evidence update our classrooms and impact student learning in wildly positive ways say doug nancy and john so let's see visible learning for literacy for what it is the book that renews our teaching and reminds us of our influence just in time this is an excellent text i particularly liked how the authors share examples of critical literacy throughout the book especially with digital and multimedia texts peter mcdermott the sage colleges through realistic discussion of how text shapes us and is shaped by us critical literacy provides pre and in service teachers with concrete ways to engage in critical literacy practices with children from elementary through high school cheryl a kreutter st john fisher college a unique practical critical literacy text with concrete examples and science as well as language arts and english classrooms cutting edge theoretical perspectives and research findings are clearly explained special attention is given to integrating out of school literacies into instruction and developing comprehension in english language learners the no child left behind act nclb is the latest in more than two decades of federal efforts to raise educational standards and an even longer stream of initiatives to improve education for poor children what lessons can we draw from these earlier efforts to help nclb achieve its goals in standards based reform and the poverty gap leading scholars in sociology economics psychology and education policy take on this critical question armed with the latest data and up to date research syntheses the authors show that standards based reform has had some positive effects particularly in the area of teacher quality moreover some of the critics' greatest fears have not been realized for example retention rates have not shot upward yet the overall pace of improvement has been slow owing in part to poor implementation based on these findings the contributors offer recommendations for the implementation and impending reauthorization of nclb these proposals such as national testing and a rethinking of achievement targets are sure to be at the center of the upcoming debate contributors include thomas dee lara desimone george farkas barbara foorman brian jacob robert m hauser paul hill tom loveless
