narrating nomadism provides an unflinching account of ethnic groups and nomadic communities across the world that were branded as criminal during colonial times it explores the tragic effect of the new identity imposed on them the traumatic survival of these communities and cultures and the creative expression of this experience in their arts and literature in the form of resistance presenting specific contexts and locations of cultural devastation in history the volume traces colonial social imagination as such showing how the grossly misperceived non sedentary communities in the colonies were subjected to the mission of settling them the essays presented here document these alternative histories from perspectives ranging from literary criticism and art history to ethnography and socio linguistics highlighting in what ways different nomadic communities negotiate discrimination and challenge in contemporary times while finding remarkable convergence in their local histories and collective testimonies this anthology opens up a new area in postcolonial studies as well as cultural anthropology by bringing the viewpoint of marginalized communities and their cultural rights to bear upon history society and culture it places an activist s view from below at the centre of literary interpretation engages with oral history more substantially than folklore studies usually do and brings together several historical narratives hitherto unexplored this will be essential for students of anthropology sociology cultural studies history linguistics post colonial studies literature and tribal studies as well as the general reader haunting bollywood is a pioneering interdisciplinary inquiry into the supernatural in hindi cinema that draws from literary criticism postcolonial studies queer theory history and cultural studies hindi commercial cinema has been invested in the supernatural since its earliest days but only a small segment of these films have been adequately explored in scholarly work this book addresses this gap by focusing on some of hindi cinema s least explored genres from gothic ghost films of the 1950s to snake films of the 1970s and 1980s to today s globally influenced zombie and vampire films meheli sen delves into what the supernatural is and the varied modalities through which it raises questions of film form history modernity and gender in south asian public cultures arguing that the supernatural is dispersed among multiple genres and constantly in conversation with global cinematic forms she demonstrates that it is an especially malleable impulse that routinely pushes hindi film into new formal and stylistic territories sen also argues that gender is a particularly accommodating stage on which the supernatural rehearses its most basic compulsions thus the interface between gender and genre provides an exceptionally productive lens into hindi cinema s negotiation of the modern and the global haunting bollywood reveals that the supernatural s unruly energies continually resist containment even as they partake of and sometimes subvert hindi cinema s most enduring pleasures from songs and stars to myth and melodrama
