Book of Romans (Vol. 2 / chapter 5-7) 2017-12-17 from the introduction it has been said that if the new testament is like a ring then romans is like the diamond atop the ring it is a precious book and even more so in relation to paul s other epistles if we have never read experienced or obtained the spiritual reality in romans then all of paul s other epistles will be like closed doors to us romans has a high value for us today and is the foundation for the rest of paul s epistles ever since the apostle paul wrote his epistle to the believers in rome it has served as a starting point for millions of christians who desire to understand god s full plan of salvation a plan expressed in the phrase the gospel of god yet despite paul s marvelous statement in the first chapter that this gospel is the power of god for salvation many struggle to understand the gospel to see it as relevant in their own life and to daily experience such saving power in this three volume commentary titus chu walks us verse by verse through romans with the goal of bringing us into a vibrant relationship with jesus christ who is the gospel himself and with other believers in a local church life

throughout his commentary he examines how our interactions with the gospel powerfully affect and transform us according to the will of god following the apostle paul's train of thought titus chu examines how each verse fits within the broader context of paul's progression from justification to sanctification glorification and transformation for a daily church life seasoned with illustrations drawn from the author's wealth of experiences in serving the lord among many local churches these volumes provide applications for the breadth of our christian experience our inward experience of the gospel appreciation for god's sovereignty and healthy functioning as members of the body of christ about volume one this volume covers romans 1:1 to 5:11 in three sections section one the gospel of god section two condemnation section three justification

Romans 2013-10-17 chapter 3 acknowledges and answers objections from outside the biblical text that paul as a monotheistic jew would not identify jesus as god similarly chapter 4 answers objections that paul would not refer to jesus as god in romans 9:5b because he does not so identify jesus elsewhere chapter 5 considers the importance of paul's identification of christ as the stone of stumbling and the end of the law in romans 9:30-10:4 especially for how he understood jesus chapter 6 argues that in romans 10:5-13 paul understood jesus as the referent of the one on whom all call for salvation assigning to jesus an old testament reference to yhwh as the one who could save chapter 7 argues there is no separate way of salvation for israel and that jesus is yhwh the redeemer from zion which israel must join gentiles in recognizing

Romans 2023-11-30 for if we being enemies were reconciled to god through the death of his son much more we will be saved in his life having been reconciled rom 5:10 the book of romans presents a complete picture of god's salvation in life it is divided into two main sections and romans 5:10 serves as the crucial dividing point before this verse paul speaks of man's need for reconciliation with god through the redemptive death of christ based on christ's death and the operation of faith we are no longer god's enemies rather we are his sons in life beginning from romans 5:10 paul begins to speak of the operation of this divine life which is able to fully conform us to the image of christ salvation involves much more than reconciliation it also includes the daily operation of the law of the spirit of life which is able to sanctify transform renew conform and build us up into christ's body the corporate expression of god

Salvation in Life in the Book of Romans 2018-05-24 written at a time when his ideas and practices were provoking opposition even from fellow christians the apostle paul articulates in his letter to the romans his understanding of god's plan for humanity and discusses the implications of this plan for different groups of people romans is considered by many as the most theologically significant and sophisticated book of the bible this volume is designed to bridge the gap between studying romans as an academic enterprise and experiencing how romans can speak today in the life of the church all of the chapters in this volume especially those devoted to the content of romans were written with both exegesis and application in mind all of the contributors to this volume believe that romans has a crucial voice within the church today and that those who preach teach and study the book need to be attentive to its witness and to its timeliness

The Letter to the Romans 1975 polybius and roman imperialism explores in depth the complexity of the greek historian polybius' views on the expansion of roman power although he considered imperialism intrinsically noble and both admired and supported roman domination polybius also evinced detachment from the ruling power this detachment came in different forms personal cultural patriotic and cultural in general he believed that the romans cited morally acceptable pretexts for declaring war observed justice in other aspects of foreign policy and practised beneficence and moderation in their dealings with subject nations even with less than half of the original text surviving the author reveals polybius personality and political philosophy

Romans 2013-11-20 in romans chapter 6 the apostle paul takes up the issue of antinomianism a dangerous perversion of the gospel s teaching that has often troubled the church the antinomian says ah this gospel is a wonderful message of salvation by the free grace of god therefore it doesn t matter at all how you live as a believer you are saved once and forever the apostle shows us why some people have misused the doctrine of the grace of god in that way and explains why christians the servants of righteousness must not live in sin or let sin reign within

Polybius and Roman Imperialism 1972 you have heard people say we just go by the bible but recognize that it is an interpreted bible that people claim for a guide how you interpret the bible depends on the spirit in your heart in order to be shown the ever living truth of god s eternal word the holy spirit of god must be in your heart followers of christ read scripture on their knees through the lens of his sacrificial love we are not here to pick scripture apart but to let scripture pick us apart servants of god s word avoid proof texting or cherry picking scripture is a unity and a harmony verses concord with one another like notes in a musical chord giving rise to a truly sound doctrine that echoes the symphony of faith it is jesus who tunes our will with god s salvation of us

Romans 2012-11-13 romans was written by paul apostle of jesus christ to the gentiles as an apostle paul spent his life traveling the mediterranean area preaching the gospel and establishing churches in the course of his missionary career paul wrote numerous letters to the churches he had established as a way to pastor them in his absence romans is the longest and most complex of paul s letters john e toews explores why paul writes to remind the roman churches of god s purpose for both jew and gentile and to reconcile jewish christian and jewish gentile church relationships

Reading Paul's Letter to the Romans 2004-07-11 in this work susann liubinskas provides a coherent reading of paul s letter to the romans in light of ancient ethnography paul like his contemporaries harnesses the apologetic power of this genre in order to fortify the members of the roman house churches to maintain their distinctiveness by arguing for the historical legitimacy of the christ movement s laws customs and way of life when the law faith dichotomy is considered within the larger context of paul s ethnic discourse its primary function as the means by which paul draws lines of continuity and discontinuity between the christ movement and its venerable jewish roots comes to light rather than viewing paul as dealing with two different religions we see paul working to position believing jews and gentiles in relationship to israel s history with god particularly as its finds its climax in jesus christ thus paul utilizes the law faith dichotomy not to describe two paths of salvation but to redefine the people of god in the new age as ethnically inclusive

The Ethnographic Character of Romans 1998-12 stevens invokes a powerful synthesis of recent pauline studies by insisting the category of israel is the hermeneutical key to all of romans through jesus the messiah and the power of the spirit paul saw fulfilled isaiah s vision of israel s destiny to the nations to bring the good news of salvation recapturing isaiah s vision broke the spell for paul of the great assembly s postexilic take on israel paul s apostleship first and foremost was to israel not gentiles exclusively paul used his exposé of the gospel of god in romans to challenge believers in rome to embrace their place in the messianic israel of god

Romans 2017-03-31 the legacy of pauline scholarship from ancient to modern is characterised by a surfeit of unsettled conflicting conclusions that often fail to interpret paul in relation to his jewish roots william s campbell takes a stand against this paradigm emphasising continuity between judaism and the christ movement in paul s letters campbell focusses on important themes such as diversity identity and reconciliation as the basic components of transformation in christ the stance from which paultheologises is one that recognises and underpins social and cultural diversity and includes the correlating demand that because difference is integral to the christ movement the enmity associated with difference cannot be tolerated thus reconciliation emerges as a fundamental value in the christ movement reconciliation in this sense respects and does not negate the particularities of the identity of jews and those from the nations in this paradigm transformation implies the re evaluation of all things in christ whether of jewish or gentile origin

Romans 2019-01-28 one of the most significant transformations of the Roman world in late antiquity was the integration of barbarian peoples into the social cultural religious and political milieu of the Mediterranean world the nature of these transformations was considered at the sixth biennial Shifting Frontiers in Late Antiquity conference at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign in March of 2005 and this volume presents an updated selection of the papers given on that occasion complemented with a few others these 25 studies do much to break down old stereotypes about the cultural and social segregation of Roman and barbarian populations and demonstrate that contrary to the past orthodoxy Romans and barbarians interacted in a multitude of ways and it was not just barbarians who experienced ethnogenesis or cultural assimilation

the same romans who disparaged barbarian behavior also adopted aspects of it in their everyday lives providing graphic examples of the ambiguity and negotiation that characterized the integration of romans and barbarians a process that altered the concepts of identity of both populations the resultant late antique polyethnic cultural world with cultural frontiers between romans and barbarians that became increasingly permeable in both directions does much to help explain how the barbarian settlement of the west was accomplished with much less disruption than there might have been and how barbarian populations were integrated seamlessly into the old roman world

Christ and Adam 2014-07-08 ian e rock demonstrates that the letter to the romans may be seen as an attempt by a subordinate group to redress actual and potential issues of confrontation with the empire and to offer hope even in the face of death paul demonstrates that it is god's peace and not rome's peace that is important that loyalty to the exalted jesus as lord and to the kingdom of god not jupiter and rome leads to salvation that grace flows from jesus as christ and lord and not from the benefactions of the emperor if the resurrection of jesus the crucified criminal of the roman empire demonstrates god's power over the universe and death the very instrument of roman control then the christ believer is encouraged to face suffering and death in the hope of salvation through this power paul's theology emerges from and is inextricably bound to the politics of his day the scriptures of his people and to the critical fact that the god who is one and lord of all is still in charge of the world
