The Malay Dilemma 1970 the malay dilemma revisited is a critical and balanced analysis of malaysia s preferential race policy and its impact on the nation s delicate race dynamics and economy unlike america s affirmative action malaysia s version is far more aggressive and pervasive and has been remarkably successful in creating a sizable and stable bumiputra indigenous group middle class the price tag is significant distortion of freemarket dynamics and consequent inefficiency perversely the policy impairs rather than strengthens bumiputras ability to compete in contrast to quotas and other set aside programs that are the hallmark of the current policy the writer presents an alternative strategy aimed primarily at enhancing bumiputra competitiveness the proposed approach would not negatively impact the economy nor interfere with the freemarket equally important it would not arouse resentment from other malaysians the first objective would be to modernize the nation s archaic educational system to emphasize english mathematics the sciences and technical training secondly the influences of religious and royal institutions must be curtailed and the rates of urbanization and population growth reduced the primary objective is in enhancing competitiveness not on meeting arbitrarily picked numerical goals and targets

The Malay Dilemma 1970 summary malaysia s former prime minister mahathir mohamad is often seen as the sole author of the country s foreign policy malaysian foreign policy in the mahathir era shows that while mahathir s personality leadership style political ideology and brand of nationalism unquestionably had a deep impact so too did domestic issues and external forces associated with globalization the book examines seven major foreign policy initiatives of the mahathir period buy british last anti commonwealth look east third world spokesmanship regional engagement islamic posturing and commercial and developmental diplomacy in discussing these topics the author explains the significance for foreign policy of communal concerns the regime s need to maintain its own authority in the face of political and social initiatives some rooted in islam and its desire to achieve national development he also discusses external pressures including japan s regional designs singapore s defense posture and the growing importance of china for the region the approach breaks away from the elitist decision making styles and single factor models usually employed to explain the foreign policy of developing nations and establishes a direct link between domestic politics and foreign policy during the period studied suggesting that the latter was

Malaysian Politics Under Mahathir 2002-01-22 he began his professional career as a family physician but wound up prescribing innovative political medicines for the entire nation that remain controversial even today was he exactly the bold and fearless policy doctor that the troubled body politic of malaysia needed or was he just another mendacious mediocrity with a record of persistent misdiagnoses phony remedies and self serving justifications only history's judgment can offer the final verdict but dr mahathir himself is in no doubt in a riveting series of unprecedented conversations malaysia's most famous former prime minister reveals to american journalist and author tom plate a panoramic panoply of views on governing on islam on jews on the west and on malays that are striking in historical sweep and contemporary relevance

Giants of Asia: Conversations with Mahathir Mohamad 2011-07-01 compilation of writings by mahathir mohamad

MALAYSIA POST-MAHATHIR: A Decade of Change 2015-08-15 john hilley provides a theoretically informed and insightful analysis of the mahathir project he examines how prime minister mahathir mohamed has translated the basis of the ruling bloc s legitimacy from coercive domination and ethnic card playing into a consensual form of hegemonic support hilley looks at his strides in using developmentalist strategies a language of post ethnic nationalism and the prospect of expanding social rewards

Paradoxes of Mahathirism 1995 individual experiences though strongly influenced by collective identities are in essence unique ones but in malaysia where ethnic identity is overpoweringly applied to constrict popular thought and rationalise government policies the uniqueness of individuals is ignored and devalued even by the individuals themselves paradoxically the community that has suffered the political ascription of group identity most acutely and most inescapably is the ascribed majority group the malays in this collection of essays edited by ooi kee beng and wan hamidi hamid nine young writers haris zuan wan hamidi hamid zairil khir johari dyana sofya mohd daud altaf deviyati izmil amri syukri shairi raja ahmad iskandar and edry faizal eddy yusof share their individual memories about growing up in malaysia and in some cases debate the racial politics in which they and all malaysians seem inextricably caught though malays in malaysia are constitutionally bound to be muslims many of the writers do not deny that among their forebears are chinese indians and europeans who practised hinduism buddhism christianity and what have you as i read their essays i feel that they write for me as well my origins are varied too for i have always prided myself on having indian spanish and acehnese forebears ariffin omar malaysian senator

The Chinese Dilemma 2003-01-01 nationalists think about the economy marvin suesse argues and this thinking matters once nationalists hold political power many nationalists seek to limit global exchange but others prioritise economic development the potential conflict between these two goals shapes nationalist policy making drawing on historical case studies from thirty countries from the american revolution to the rise of china this book paints a broad panorama of economic nationalism over the past 250 years it explains why such thinking has become influential despite the internal contradictions and chequered record of many nationalist policy makers at the root of economic nationalism s appeal is its ability to capitalise upon economic inequality both domestic and international these inequalities are reinforced by political factors such as empire building ethnic conflicts and financial crises this has given rise to powerful nationalist movements that have decisively shaped the global exchange of goods people and capital

The Musa Dilemma 1986 consistently dominated by the malay party umno which represents the largest ethnic group the malaysian government requires the support of its chinese indian and east malaysian minorities to retain control the need to appeal to a politically and ethnically divided electorate restrains the arbitrary exercise of power by the ruling coalition as a result the government responds to popular aspirations particularly since a split in the dominant malay party in the 1980s

Mahathir, a Profile in Courage 1982 mahathir mohamad turned malaysia into one of the developing world s most successful economies he adopted pragmatic economic policies alongside repressive political measures and showed that islam was compatible with representative government and modernization he emerged as a third world champion and islamic spokesman by standing up to the west

Mahathir Vs. Abdullah 2007 mahathir mohamad s legacy as malaysia s longest serving prime minister 1981 2003 is deeply controversial his engagement with islam the religion of just over half malaysia s population has often been dismissed as partisan maneuvering yet his willingness to countenance a more prominent place for islam in government and society is what distinguished him from other modernist politicians and his instinct to set malaysian politics against the backdrop of the wider muslim world was politically astute author sven schottmann argues that mahathir s transformative effect on malaysia can only be fully appreciated if we also take him seriously as one of the postcolonial muslim world s most significant political thought leaders schottmann sees mahathir s representations of islam as a relatively coherent discourse that can legitimately be described as mahathir s islam this discourse contains mahathir s assessment of the economic political and sociocultural problems facing the contemporary muslim world and the range of solutions and corrective measures that he proposed muslims should adopt his ideas are fraught with flaws and contradictions on the one hand he emphasized the individualistic egalitarian pluralistic democratic and dynamic qualities of islam on the other his government enacted legislation and acquiesced in the activities of religious bodies that curtailed religious freedoms of both muslims and non muslims his ideas contributed to malaysia s worsening state of interethnic relations yet his insistence that every muslim had the right to speak for islam may have paradoxically prepared the ground for a future democratization of malaysian politics mahathir s islam is based on rigorous analysis of mahathir s speeches interviews and writings which the author is able to link to parallel processes elsewhere in the muslim world indonesia the middle east pakistan turkey and diaspora communities in the west mahathir s islamic discourse schottmann suggests must be read against the wider late twentieth century resurgence of religion in general and the post 1970s islamic revival in particular balanced in approach and engagingly written this book will be of interest to scholars and students of political science religious studies and others interested in malaysia southeast asia or mahathir himself phenomena that are related to religion including nature ethics secularization gender and identity broadening the context it studies the interrelation between religion and other fields including education business economics and law the book presents a vast array of examples to illustrate the changes that have taken place and have led to a new world map of religions beginning with an introduction of the concept of the changing world religion map the book first focuses on nature ethics and the environment it examines humankind's eternal search for the sacred and discusses the emergence of green religion as a theme that cuts across many faiths next the book turns to the theme of the pilgrimage illustrated by many examples from all parts of the world in its discussion of the interrelation between religion and education it looks at the role of missionary movements it explains the relationship between religion business economics and law by means of a discussion of legal and moral frameworks and the financial and business issues of religious organizations the next part of the book explores the many new faces that are part of the religious landscape and culture of the global north europe russia australia and new zealand the u s and canada and the global south latin america africa and asia it does so by looking at specific population movements diasporas and the impact of globalization the volume next turns to secularization as both a phenomenon occurring in the global religious north and as an emerging and distinguishing feature in the metropolitan cosmopolitan and gateway cities and regions in the global south the final part of the book explores the changing world of religion in regards to gender and identity issues the political religious nexus and the new worlds associated with the virtual technologies and visual media

The Early Years, 1947-1972 1995 this simulating new reading of constructions of ethnicity in malaysia and singapore is an important contribution to understanding the powerful linkages between ethnicity religious reform identity and nationalism in multi ethnic southeast asia

Mahathir 2003 in malaysia race is viewed not as an external attribute attached to a person but rather as an innate characteristic starting from this foundation race and indigeneity have featured prominently in malaysian politics throughout the post war era influencing both the civil status and property rights of broad sectors of the population scientific opinion shapes malaysian thinking about the subject as do stereotypes but much of the discussion rests on concepts developed within the discipline of anthropology and by the colonial administration in a process that dates back to the early nineteenth century taming the wild examines the complex history of indigeneity and racial thought in the malay peninsula and the role played by the politics of knowledge in determining racial affinities by charting the progression of thought concerning indigenous or aboriginal people the author shows that the classifications of indigenous and malay depend on a mixture of cultural social and religious knowledge that is compressed under the heading race but differs according to the circumstances under which it is produced and the uses to which it is put by historicizing the categorization of aborigines and british engagement with aboriginal groups in malaya taming the wild situates racial knowledge within larger frames of anthropological and racial thought and highlights the persistence of nineteenth century understandings of indigeneity and malayness in racial contestations in modern malaysia

Dilema Melayu 1982 asian forms of the nation have rarely been seen as independent alternative models among today s leading theoreticians there is a growing tendency to take asia seriously and to include asian examples in the general discussion the aim of the present collection is to build on and reinforce this tendency and demonstrates that in asia as well as in europe each nation forms a unique amalgam which can be compared fruitfully with others
