 from the anglo saxon chronicle alfred collected such scanty records together and added to them a history of the century in which he lived egbert s wars were not yet forgotten and the deeds of his son and grandsons were still nearer the king s own experience the account of his own wars down to the year 892 is probably from the pen of the west saxon monarch himself no definite judgement can be given but the spirit and style of the narrative is wholly alfred's we know from other sources that the king's mind soared above the isolated life of his own island he felt in all its fullness the great man's need of a less restricted atmosphere to this unconscious instinct we may trace the sending of alms to india and the frequent mention of foreign events in that portion of the chronicle attributed to him note too the curiosity which is shown about the three irish exiles of the year 891 alfred was ever interested in tales of the outside world compare the account of the voyages of ohthere and wulfstan which be inserted in his translation of orosius history about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

These Are the Anglo Indians 1876 excerpt from history of the anglo saxons from the earliest period to the norman conquest in the present attempt at a popular history of the anglo saxons i have endeavoured to avoid the dry hard matter of fact style of previous historians to describe its important truths in a more picturesque and familiar manner to bring out the actors and scenery more boldly before the eye of the reader to throw more of a poetical spirit into the narrative and to give it all the fascination of fiction without altering a single recorded fact such a task scarcely presents an obstacle history itself furnishes the romance writer with the most dramatic incidents of his work and they only require to be cast in a somewhat imaginative mould to make them more interesting than fiction the hard naked outline is not all that is necessary to represent truth and it is this very want of a finer finish and a richer style of colouring that has driven so many readers to the romance school of history in which they have found only distorted facts and historical caricatures instead of truth there are many who argue that the paths which lead to knowledge must of necessity be difficult and rugged i believe that it is in the power of any author to make them much pleasanter than they are and that to accomplish this he has only to amuse as well as to instruct even as an agreeable companion will by cheerful conversation seem to shorten and lighten the way however long and wearisome it may be in itself such a companion i have endeavoured to make this volume and to bring the very scenery before the mind s eye of the reader whether the events transpired on sea or land in castle or cathedral whenever such word painting adds to the beauty richness and interest of our historical descriptions about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
