studies complied by the commission on commonwealth studies provides an opportunity for commonwealth countries to learn from the experience of others in many fields member countries face similar challenges in public policy and institutional reform which if studied will have great practical and academic value for the next century these challenges occur in such fields as economic liberalisation democratisation and constitutional design public administration civil service reform the provision and funding of health care and social security taxation education population movements and heritage conservation a study was conducted to determine the feasibility of a distance education network in the eastern caribbean two types of consultations were completed a brief site survey of four eastern caribbean states grenada dominica antigua and saint lucia and a workshop in saint lucia to which education officials from government agencies and higher education institutions were invited through these sessions information was gathered on the experience and resources of colleges of further education in distance education the distance education technologies used by the colleges and their associated costs the educational needs that such a network might address and the financial opportunities and constraints for such a project the study found that there is strong interest in distance education among tertiary institutions in the eastern caribbean television stations exist as means for providing distance education but educational needs and the availability of other resources have not yet been established technical issues emerged with regard to the operation of a television network and further research is needed to take advantage of opportunities finally the study found that information sharing needs are acute at several levels and that action not more studies is wanted since needs are acute the study recommended that action steps should be taken to implement the recommendations made in the workshop and that surveys should be made of needs materials technical feasibility and an information clearinghouse the report includes the following a list of 9 references
