light of its upcoming centenary in 2016 the time seems ripe to ask why how and in what ways has memory of ireland s 1916 rising persisted over the decades in pursuing answers to these questions which are not only of historical concern but of contemporary political and cultural importance this book breaks new ground by offering a wide ranging exploration of the making and remembrance of the story of 1916 in modern times it draws together the interlocking dimensions of history making commemoration and heritage to reveal the rising s undeniable influence upon modern ireland s evolution both instantaneous and long term in addition to furnishing a history of the tumultuous events of easter 1916 which rattled the british empire s foundations and enthused independence movements elsewhere ireland s 1916 rising mainly concentrates on illuminating the evolving relationship between the irish past and present in doing so it unearths the far reaching political impacts and deep seated cultural legacies of the actions taken by the rebels as evidenced by the most pivotal episodes in the rising s commemoration and the myriad varieties of heritage associated with its memory this volume hoarding new guinea provides a new cultural history of colonialism that pays close attention to the millions of indigenous artifacts that serve as witnesses to europe s colonial past in ethnographic museums rainer f buschmann investigates the roughly two hundred thousand artifacts extracted from the colony of german new guinea from 1870 to 1920 reversing the typical trajectories that place ethnographic museums at the center of the analysis he concludes that museum interests in material culture alone cannot account for the large quantities of extracted artifacts buschmann moves beyond the easy definition of artifacts as trophies of colonial defeat or religious conversion instead employing the term hoarding to describe the irrational amassing of indigenous artifacts by european colonial residents buschmann also highlights indigenous material culture as a bargaining chip for its producers to engage with the imposed colonial regime in addition by centering an area of collection rather than an institution he opens new areas of investigation that include non professional ethnographic collectors and a sustained rather than superficial consideration of indigenous peoples as producers behind the material culture hoarding new guinea answers the call for a more significant historical focus on colonial ethnographic collections in european museums providing original insights into the factors epubs many of the changes i ve been waiting for with epub production have been implemented indesign now stands at the top of the heap for book production in general and epub production in particular you do not need to know code though understanding how html and css works will aid your conceptual understanding i was lukewarm about fxl until i realized that the new fixed layout epubs would show gradient paragraph rules gradient strokes and fills in tables and much more the only major things we re missing are justification and hyperlinked test does not work in fxl the exported epubs upload transition from school into work is a vital point in the lives of young people making a successful transition through a high quality and valued pathway can mean a successful career becoming trapped in poor quality and under valued alternatives can mean a lifetime of poverty this report is about young people and social mobility and focuses on how to ensure that all young people are offered a high quality career path after they leave school we have found that the current policy structure means a large number of young people do not have good options and are not supported to make a choice which works for them and is successful an increasing number of young people leave school and go on to a levels and university of the others a small minority are at risk of dropping out of education employment or training the neets successive governments have focused on these two groups for a long time but the majority of young people in the uk do not fall into either group they do not go to university they find jobs or they continue with some form of vocational education despite making up the majority of the emerging workforce they have received much less attention it is these young people who are the focus of this report the current system for young people who do not follow an academic route is complex and incoherent with confusing incentives for young people and employers careers advice and education are being delivered in a way which means that too many young people simply drift into further studies or their first job which often has no real prospect of progression a through debate about their meaning but the past informs the present in a myriad of ways and medievalists can and should use their research to address the concerns and interests of contemporary society this volume presents a number of carefully commissioned essays that demonstrate the fertility and originality of recent work in medieval studies above all they have been selected for relevance most contributors are in the earlier stages of their careers and their approaches clearly reflect how interdisciplinary methodologies applied to medieval studies have potential repercussions and value far beyond the boundaries of the middle ages these chapters are powerful demonstrations of the value of medieval research to our own times both in terms of providing answers to some of the specific questions facing humanity today and in terms of much broader considerations taken together the research presented here also provides readers with confidence in the fact that medieval studies cannot be neglected without a great loss to the understanding of what it means to be human taiwan is one of the great paradoxes of the international order a place with its own flag currency government and military but which most of the world does not recognise as a sovereign country an island that china regards as a rebellious province but which has managed to survive defiantly for decades now with its neighbour china a major power on the world stage and ally united states looking increasingly inward taiwan s position has never been more precarious kerry brown and kalley wu tzu hui reveal how the island s shifting fortunes have been shaped by centuries of conquest and by a cast of dynamic characters by cold war intrigue and the rise of its neighbour as a global power explaining how this tiny island caught between the agendas of two superpowers is attempting to find its place in a rapidly changing world order the trouble with taiwan relates the story of a fascinating nation and culture and how its disputed status speaks to a wider global story about chinese control and waning us influence thailand was a key ally of the united states after wwii serving as a bulwark against communism in southeast asia and as a base for us troops during the vietnam war in return the us provided it with millions of dollars in military and economic aid and staunchly supported the country s various despotic regimes and yet the twenty first century has witnessed a striking reversal in thailand s foreign relations china once a sworn enemy is becoming a valued ally to the military government in this authoritative modern history benjamin disappearance of a folk singer kidnapped from the alley behind a folk club her bandmates shot and killed ellie foster s whereabouts have remained a mystery for fifty years hired by ellie s granddaughter cullen and cobb travel into the past to unearth long buried secrets none so deadly book 4 the brutal killing of a police investigator obsessed with faith unruh s murder has put the ex cop private eye and former crime writing journalist back on the killer s trail and directly in the line of fire the 1916 rising is one of the most documented and analysed episodes in ireland s turbulent history often overlooked however is its immediate aftermath this significant window in the narrative of irish revolutionary history which saw the rebirth of the volunteers and laid the foundations for the war of independence is usually covered as a footnote or from the biographical standpoints of the leaders picking up where the authors acclaimed account of the rising when the clock struck in 1916 left off we join the men and women of the rising in the dark abyss of defeat the leaders poignant final hours and violent ends are laid bare but the perspective of those with the unpalatable task of carrying out the executions is also revealed rectifying a historic disservice to those who reluctantly formed the firing squads while the prisoners in dublin awaited their grisly fates others were deported in stinking cattle boats to camps in england and wales when they returned it was to a jubilant welcome in a radically changed country the gruesome death of thomas ashe in september 1917 after being force fed in mountjoy prison became a marshalling point for the republican movement as his funeral saw volunteers once again assembled in uniform on dublin s streets the next phase of the struggle was born under new leaders who had graduated from the internment camps known as republican universities ready and eager to fill the void left by the executed visionaries the authors sifted through thousands of first hand accounts of the suffering endured when ordinary people set out to change history their stirring account will transport readers into life as it looked sounded and even smelt to those taking part in this crucial juncture of our history one of the most successful of the high scoring luftwaffe jagdgeschwader during world war 2 jg 54 grünherz green hearts was formed from three disparate fighter gruppen immediately prior to the battle of britain having enjoyed immediate success over the channel and south east england during the summer of 1940 the unit was transferred to the eastern front in the spring of 1941 in preparation for operation barbarossa the german invasion of the soviet union jg 54 would remain a jagdwaffe stalwart in the east flying firstly bf 109fs and then the fw 190 by war s end the geschwader s pilots had claimed over 9500 kills and produced over 100 aces men like hans philipp walter nowotny and otto kittel are profiled in this volume which reveals the struggle in the face of overwhelming odds that was the lot of the jagdfliieger on the eastern front anthony tucker jones s photographic history is a fascinating visual introduction to the armoured battles of the second world war in the far east and asia pacific regions from 1937 to 1945 in contrast to the experience of the armies that fought in europe and north africa in the far east tanks remained an infantry support weapon and their role is often neglected in histories of the conflict japanese armour confronted tanks deployed by the chinese russians british and americans early in the war against chinese forces which lacked armour the japanese had some success but their light and medium tanks were no match for their allied counterparts later japanese designs were better armed but they were built in such small numbers that they could do little to stem the allied advance the role of armoured vehicles in each theatre of the war in the far east is shown in a selection of over 150 rare wartime photographs that record armour in action in china manchuria mongolia malaya burma and during the battles fought for the pacific islands at the conclusion of wwii no part of the world experienced a more dramatic transformation than east asia the region s political stability throughout the postwar period prompted exponential economic growth that ultimately established south korea japan and china as east asia s most important powers while many citizens of these nations now live in a time of unprecedented prosperity the arrangement that supported this region s transformation is fragile with the second largest economy and a burgeoning military sector china is widely acknowledged as the preeminent rising world power the onus of maintaining balance in the region now rests primarily with south korea and japan in partnership with the united states however because of long standing weaknesses in south korea japan relations and an inconsistent us commitment to the region the possibility that china could usher in a more uncertain era of revisionism has never been more likely in strengthening south korea japan relations east asia s international order and a rising china dennis patterson and jangsup choi address the historical roots of this weak alliance combining decades of research with current public opinion data the authors warn that the tendency of these nations to rely on the united states to maintain the status quo has become dangerously unstable a new strategy one of cooperation and collaboration is needed to prevent china from upending the region s current liberal international order hoarding new guinea provides a new cultural history of colonialism that pays close attention to the millions of indigenous artifacts that serve as witnesses to europe s colonial past in ethnographic museums rainer f buschmann investigates the roughly two hundred thousand artifacts extracted from the colony of german new guinea from 1870 to 1920 reversing the typical trajectories that place ethnographic museums at the center of the analysis he concludes that museum interests in material culture alone cannot account for the large quantities of extracted artifacts buschmann moves beyond the easy definition of artifacts as trophies of colonial defeat or religious conversion instead employing the term hoarding to describe the irrational amassing of indigenous artifacts by european colonial residents buschmann also highlights indigenous material culture as a bargaining chip for its producers to engage with the imposed colonial regime in addition by centering an area of collection rather than an institution he opens new areas of investigation that include non professional ethnographic collectors and a sustained rather than superficial consideration of indigenous peoples as producers behind the material culture hoarding new guinea answers the call for a more significant historical focus on colonial ethnographic collections in european museums the 1916 rising is one of the most documented and analysed episodes in ireland s turbulent history often overlooked however is its immediate aftermath this significant window in the narrative of irish revolutionary history which saw the rebirth of the volunteers and laid the foundations for the war of independence is usually covered as a footnote or from the biographical standpoints of the leaders picking up where the authors acclaimed account of the rising when the clock struck in 1916 left off we join the men and women of the rising in the dark abyss of defeat the leaders poignant final hours and violent ends are laid bare but the perspective of those with the unpalatable task of carrying out the executions is also revealed rectifying a historic disservice to those who reluctantly formed the firing squads while the prisoners in dublin awaited their grisly fates others were deported in stinking cattle boats to camps in england and wales when they returned it was to a jubilant welcome in a radically changed country the gruesome death of thomas ashe in september 1917 after being force fed in mountjoy prison became a marshalling point for the republican movement as his funeral saw volunteers once again assembled in uniform on dublin s streets the next phase of the struggle was born under new leaders who had graduated from the internment camps known as republican universities ready and eager to fill the void left by the executed visionaries the authors sifted through thousands of first hand accounts of the suffering endured when ordinary people set out to change history their stirring account will transport readers into life as it looked sounded and even smelt to those taking part in this crucial juncture of our history anthony tucker jones s photographic history is a fascinating visual introduction to the armoured battles of the second world war in the far east and asia pacific regions from 1937 to 1945 in contrast to the experience of the armies that fought in europe and north africa in the far east tanks remained an infantry support weapon and their role is often neglected in histories of the conflict japanese armour confronted tanks deployed by the chinese russians british and americans early in the war against chinese forces which lacked armour the japanese had some success but their light and medium tanks were no match for their allied counterparts later japanese designs were better armed but they were built in such small numbers that they could do little to stem the allied advance the role of armoured vehicles in each theatre of the war in the far east is shown in a selection of over 150 rare wartime photographs that record armour in action in china manchuria mongolia malaya burma and during the battles fought for the pacific islands at the conclusion of wwii no part of the world experienced a more dramatic transformation than east asia the region s political stability throughout the postwar period prompted exponential economic growth that ultimately established south korea japan and china as east asia s most important powers while many citizens of these nations now live in a time of unprecedented prosperity the arrangement that supported this region s transformation is fragile with the second largest economy and a burgeoning military sector china is widely acknowledged as the preeminent rising world power the onus of maintaining balance in the region now rests primarily with south korea and japan in partnership with the united states however because of long standing weaknesses in south korea japan relations and an inconsistent us commitment to the region the possibility that china could usher in a more uncertain era of revisionism has never been more likely in strengthening south korea japan relations east asia s international order and a rising china dennis patterson and jangsup choi address the historical roots of this weak alliance combining decades of research with current public opinion data the authors warn that the tendency of these nations to rely on the united states to maintain the status quo has become dangerously unstable a new strategy one of cooperation and collaboration is needed to prevent china from upending the region s current liberal international order
