this book provides an inside into the complex relationship between hindi and urdu a comparison of 20th century short stories that were published in both hindi and urdu are used as a basis to define the boundaries between both languages dealing with the most translated work of german literature the tales of the brothers grimm 1812 1815 this book discusses their history notably in relation to denmark and subsequently other nations from 1816 to 1986 the danish intelligentsia responded enthusiastically to the tales and some were immediately translated into danish by a nobleman and by the foremost romantic poet their renditions remained in print for a century and imbued the tales with high prestige this book discusses translators approaches and other parameters such as copyright and changes in target audiences the tales social acceptability inspired hans christian andersen to write his celebrated fairytales combined the grimm and andersen tales came to constitute the international fairytale this genre was born in processes of translation and today it is rooted more firmly in the world of translation than in national literatures this book thus addresses issues of interest to literary cross cultural studies and translation gabrielle roy is one of the best known figures of québec literature yet she spent much of the first thirty years of her life studying working and living in english for roy as a member of manitoba s francophone minority bilingualism was a necessary strategy for survival and success how did this bilingual and bicultural background help shape her work as a writer in french the implications of her linguistic and cultural identity are explored in chapters looking at education language translation and the representation of canada s other minorities from the immigrants in western canada to the inuit of ungava what emerges is a new reading of roy s work drawing on archival material postcolonial theory and translation studies between languages and cultures explores the traces and effects of roy s intimate knowledge of english language and culture challenging and augmenting the established view that her work is distinctly achievements and shortcomings in the century iv a look into the new century the postscript of the english version the question of why the cooperation of jews with the persian and ptolemaic empires achieved some success and why it failed with regard to the seleucids and the romans even turning into military hostility against them has not been sufficiently answered the present volume intends to show from the perspectives of hebrew bible judaic and ancient history studies that the contrasting jewish attitudes towards foreign powers were not only dependent on specific political circumstances they were also interrelated with the emergence of multiple early jewish identities which all found a basis in the torah the prophets or the psalms women in victorian england wore jewelry made from each other s hair and wrote poems celebrating decades of friendship they pored over magazines that described the dangerous pleasures of corporal punishment a few had sexual relationships with each other exchanged rings and vows willed each other property and lived together in long term partnerships described as marriages but as sharon marcus shows these women were not seen as gender outlaws their desires were fanned by consumer culture and their friendships and unions were accepted and even encouraged by family society and church far from being sexless angels defined only by male desires victorian women openly enjoyed looking at and even dominating other women their friendships helped realize the ideal of companionate love between men and women celebrated by novels and their unions influenced politicians and social thinkers to reform marriage law through a close examination of literature memoirs letters domestic magazines and political debates marcus reveals how relationships between women were a crucial component of femininity deeply researched powerfully argued and filled with original readings of familiar and surprising sources between women overturns everything we thought we knew about victorian women and the history of marriage and family life it offers a new paradigm for theorizing gender and sexuality not just in the victorian period but in our own heschel was one of the outstanding judaic philosophers and theologians of our time and this is more than just a comprehensive introduction to contemporary judaism as he attempts to bridge the gap between traditions of eastern european jewry and the scholarship of western civilisation the fact that certain cultures and religions produced a way of life which for the sake of self perfection expected its adherents to withdraw from various obligations to the world and to enter into the organisational structure of a monastic community obviously represents a constant anthropological foundation the spectrum of monastic life within these various cultures was extremely diverse in its manifestations it was the result of a high degree of flexibility in the face of constantly changing ideas about piety social needs and concepts of community and individuality however an interreligious study with the aim of a scholarly analysis of comparable key elements across different monastic cultures does not exist yet the editors as well as the authors of this volume are particularly interested in how monastic life was realised communally in many ways according to fixed norms and rules how it shaped the understanding of community and civilisation and therefore made a decisive contribution to the formation of our cultural identity this volume contains a new and up to date selection of case studies which offer new insights on various topics in indo european linguistics with a focus on contact variation and reconstruction and with methods that straddle the divide between linguistics and philology situated opposite the mouth of the orinoco river western trinidad has long been considered an entrepôt to mainland south america trinidad s geographic position seen as strategic by various imperial governments led to many heterogeneous peoples from across the region and globe settling or being relocated there the calm waters around the gulf of paria on the western fringes of trinidad induced settlers to construct a harbour port of spain around which the modern capital has been formed from its colonial roots into the postcolonial era western trinidad therefore has played an especial part in the shaping of the island s literature viewed from one perspective western trinidad might be deemed as narrating the heart of the modern state s national literature alternatively the political threats posed around san fernando in trinidad s southwest in the 1930s and from within the capital in the 1970s present a different picture of western trinidad one in which the fractures of trinidad and tobago s projected nationalism are prevalent while sugar remains a dominant narrative in caribbean literary studies this book offers a unique literary perspective on matters too often perceived as the sole preserve of sociological anthropological or geographical studies the legacy of the oil industry and the development of the suburban commuter belt of east west corridor therefore form considerable discursive nodes alongside other key trinidadian sites such as woodford square colonial houses and the urban yards of port of spain this study places works by well known authors such as v s naipaul and samuel selvon alongside writing by michel maxwell philip marcella fanny wilkins e l joseph earl lovelace ismith khan monique roffey arthur calder marshall and the largely neglected novelist yseult bridges who is almost entirely forgotten today using fiction calypso history memoir legal accounts poetry essays and journalism this study opens with an analysis of trinidad s nineteenth century literature and offers twentieth century and more contemporary readings of the island in successive chapters chapters are roughly arranged in chronological order around particular sites and topoi while literature from a variety of authors of british caribbean irish and jewish descent is represented this proceedings book presents the first ever cross disciplinary analysis of 16th 20th century south east and southeast asian cartography the central theme of the conference was the mutual influence of western and asian cartographic traditions and the focus was on points of contact between western and asian cartographic history geographically the topics were limited to south asia east asia and southeast asia with special attention to india china japan korea and indonesia topics addressed included asia s place in the world the dutch east india company toponymy philipp franz von siebold maritime cartography missionary mapping and cadastral mapping philosophical texts of the early modern era in which sanctions were imposed on those who entertained deviating views require a particular hermeneutical approach according to leo strauss the interpreter s task is to uncover their esoteric messages the contributions both address the methodological problems of strauss s hermeneutics and discuss paradigmatic cases of candidates for a reading between the lines hobbes spinoza and bayle the seventeenth century mexican poet playwright and nun sor juana inés de la cruz is best known for her secular works most notably her damning indictment of male double standards hombres necios stupid men however her autos sacramentales allegorical one act plays on the eucharist have received little attention and have only been discussed individually and out of sequence by examining them as a collection in their original order their meaning and importance are revealed the autos combine christian and classical pagan imagery from the old world with the conquest and conversion of the new world as the plays progress the mystery of christ s greatest gift to mankind is deciphered and is mirrored in spain s gift of the true faith to the indigenous mexicans sor juana s own image is also situated within this baroque landscape presented as a triumph of spanish imperialism an exotic muse between two worlds a ground breaking collection by thirteen distinguished international scholars this volume presents fresh perspectives on the exchange of culture and ideas between isolated communities through books and correspondence and offers pioneering comparisons between the northern atlantic and that of spanish and portuguese territories further south this groundbreaking book was seeded by the first ever joint jung lacan conference on the notion of the sublime held at cambridge england against the backdrop of the 100th anniversary of the outbreak of the great war it provides a fascinating range of in depth psychological perspectives on aspects of creativity and destruction inherent in the monstrous awe inspiring sublime the chapters include some of the outcrop of academic and clinical papers given at this conference with the addition of new contributions that explore similarities and differences between jungian and lacanian thinking on key topics such as language and linguistics literature religion self and subject science mathematics and philosophy the overall objective of this vitalizing volume is the development and dissemination of new ideas that will be of interest to practising psychoanalysts psychotherapists and academics in the field as well as to all those who are captivated by the still revolutionary thinking of jung and lacan provides historical perspective as well as current data abundantly illustrated with figures redrawn from literature data covers all pertinent theory and physical chemistry catalytic and chemotherapeutic applications are included this collection of essays by major scholars in the field explores how the rich intersections between italy and spain during the early modern period resulted in a confluence of cultural ideals various means of exchange and convergence are explored through two main catalysts humans their trips or resettlements and objects such as books paintings sculptures and prints the visual and textual evidence of the transmission of ideas iconographies and styles are examined such as triumphal ephemera treatises on painting the social status of the artist collections and their display church decoration and funerary monuments providing a more nuanced understanding of the exchanges of styles forms and ideals across southern europe this first volume of the series dynamics in the history of religions reviews the opening conference of the käte hamburger kolleg at the ruhr university bochum the first section concentrates on the formation of what later come to be termed world religions through inter religious contact the second part focuses on the significance of interreligious contacts also during their expansive phase methodological problems of multi perspective research and especially the lack of a general religious terminology are discussed in the third chapter while the final papers outline various aspects of secularization and re sacralisation in the age of globalisation as an effect of multicultural contacts in a world wide web of religious interferences contributors include marion steinicke volkhard krech peter wick victor h mair heiner roetz patrick olivelle jens schlieter guy stroumsa sarah stroumsa nikolas jaspert michael lecker john tolan eun jeung lee michael lackner stephen c berkowitz sven bretfeld lucian hölscher jan assmann robert ford realistically describes the experiences of people living with schizophrenia and their families from the detection of the first symptoms until the development of treatments and strategies to cope with this unique human condition schizophrenia is a form of psychosis in which subjective aspects such as hallucinatory and delusional phenomena tend to distort the understanding of reality because psychotic states fluctuate in intensity over time those affected literally live between reason and illusion between reason and illusion demystifying schizophrenia is an invitation to understand what it means to develop schizophrenia and to live with it throughout one's life and this is an invitation to all those who are in some way affected by this condition those who live with it family members friends health professionals and everyone who want to have a non stigmatized view of mental disorders and people who live with them faced with psychosis the person affected by the disease and the family are lost and go looking for alternative or spiritual help which usually delays the beginning of treatment jorge cecília and rodrigo had the courage to face a difficult theme and the happy idea of writing a book of an educational nature about schizophrenia the book's originality lies in the fact that it was written taking into account the experience of the person with the disease and his or her family members in the face of this something new that has occurred in their lives dr itiro shirakawa professor emeritus of the paulista medical school of the federal university of são paulo unifesp epm brazil the six months that robert burns spent in edinburgh between the arylshire years and the short lived maturity in dumfries were an intense time in the life of a poet who became a scottish hero burns is an icon but he is a flawed one the great bard was fond of drink women and over familiar with edinburgh's underworld he was often conflicted with crippling self doubt about his talents and bitter about his place in society during his short time in edinburgh burns had dealings with the infamous deacon brodie was struck by inspiration and failed by his muse and fell in love with two unavailable women and bedded many more than that while never straying from accepted burns history this remarkable novel imagines the life of burns in those months to discover the flesh and blood man behind the legend back cover among the dirt and smoke of 18th century edinburgh the great poet ponders his next move frustrated with the edinburgh literati and the tight purse of his publisher burns finds distraction in the capital's dark underbelly midnight assignations with working girls and bawdy rhymes for his tavern friends are interrupted when he is unexpectedly called to a mysterious meeting with a dangerous man but then burns falls in love perhaps the only real love in a lifetime of casual romances with beautiful nancy the inspiration for ae fond kiss donald smith has woven the real life love affair of nancy and burns into a tantalising tale of passion and betrayal binding historical fact and fiction together to create an intimate portrait of burns the man published in 1811 this six volume selection of letters by anna seward 1742 1809 offers a wealth of romantic literary criticism

A dialogue between a Popish priest, and an English Protestant. Wherein the principal points ... of both religions, are ... fully examined 1839 this book realistically describes the experiences of people living with schizophrenia and their families from the detection of the first symptoms until the development of treatments and strategies to cope with this unique human condition schizophrenia is a form of psychosis in which subjective aspects such as hallucinatory and delusional phenomena tend to distort the understanding of reality because psychotic states fluctuate in intensity over time those affected literally live between reason and illusion between reason and illusion demystifying schizophrenia is an invitation to understand what it means to develop schizophrenia and to live with it throughout one s life and this is an invitation to all those who are in some way affected by this condition those who live with it family members friends health professionals and everyone who want to have a non stigmatized view of mental disorders and people who live with them faced with psychosis the person affected by the disease and the family are lost and go looking for alternative or spiritual help which usually delays the beginning of treatment jorge cecília and rodrigo had the courage to face a difficult theme and the happy idea of writing a book of an educational nature about schizophrenia the book s originality lies in the fact that it was written taking into account the experience of the person with the disease and his or her family members in the face of this something new that has occurred in their lives dr itiro shirakawa professor emeritus of the paulista medical school of the federal university of são paulo unifesp epm brazil

Between the Bocas 2017-07-19 the six months that robert burns spent in edinburgh between the arylshire years and the short lived maturity in dumfries were an intense time in the life of a poet who became a scottish hero burns is an icon but he is a flawed one the great bard was fond of drink women and over familiar with edinburgh s underworld he was often conflicted with crippling self doubt about his talents and bitter about his place in society duringhis short time in edinburgh burns had dealings with the infamous deacon brodie was struck by inspiration and failed by his muse and fell in love with two unavailable women and bedded many more than that while never straying from accepted burns history this remarkable novel imagines the life of burns in those months to discover the flesh and blood man behind the legend back cover among the dirt and smoke of 18th century edinburgh the great poet ponders his next move frustrated with the edinburgh literati and the tight purse of his publisher burns finds distraction in the capital s dark underbelly midnight assignations with working girls and bawdy rhymes for his tavern friends are interrupted when he is unexpectedly called to a mysterious meeting with a dangerous man but then burns falls in love perhaps the only real love in a lifetime of casual romances with beautiful nancy the inspiration for ae fond kiss donald smith has woven the real life love affair of nancy and burns into a tantalising tale of passion and betrayal binding historical fact and fiction together to create an intimate portrait of burns the man
