this book debunks the argument that quality in education can only be achieved by limiting or trading off equality the quality of schooling is a major issue for third world nations across the globe however there is no single measure which is universally accepted whether it is as some economists might argue an issue of the number of desks per classroom or one of national sovereignty is widely disputed defining equality in education becomes increasingly difficult in an era of globalization in which there exists a wide gap between rich and poor both within and between nations in the context of an international move towards new right politics and neo liberal economic ideologies both the quality and equality of education are imperiled this book argues that any worthy definition of quality education must include the interests and participation of the underprivileged is image everything for many people in our culture image and images are everything americans spend hours watching television but rarely finish a good book words are quickly losing their appeal arthur hunt sees this trend as a direct assault on christianity he warns that by exalting imagery we risk becoming mindless pagans our thirst for images has dulled our minds so that we lack the biblical and mental defenses we need to resist pagan influences what about paganism hunt contends that it never died in modern western culture image based media just brought it to the surface again sex violence and celebrity worship abound in our culture driving a mass media frenzy reminiscent of pagan idolatry this book is a clear warning that the church is being cut off from its word based heritage and that we are open to abuse by those who exploit the image but neglect the word thoughtful readers will find this a challenging call to be critical about the images bombarding our sense and to affirm that the word is everything
