student retention continues to be a vexing problem for all colleges and universities in spite of the money spent on creating programs and services to help retain students until they achieve their academic and personal goals and graduate the figures have not improved over time this is particularly true for minority students who have a greater attrition rate than majority students demographic information shows that the minority population in the united states is growing at a faster rate than the majority it is imperative that educational institutions find ways to help improve retention rates for all students but particularly minority students retention rates should not differ appreciably among different racial ethnic groups the journal of college student retention research theory and practice is the only scholarly peer reviewed journal devoted solely to college student retention it has published many articles on minority student retention and this topic continues to garner much attention this book is a compilation of the very best of these articles selected on the basis of reviews by a cadre of experts in the education field the articles discuss african american latino latina asian and asian pacific native american and biracial students and institutional commitments to retaining a diverse student population for those interested in this vital area the collection will teach and inspire them to achieve greater heights and pay additional attention to retaining minority students in our colleges and universities this book celebrates the rights of the child through including student voice in educational matters that affect them directly it focuses on the experiences of children and young people and explores how our educational policies practices and research endeavours enable educators to help young people tell their own stories the respective chapters illustrate how listening to young people can help them attain new positions of power even though doing so often creates discomfort and requires a radical change on the part of the adult establishment further the book challenges researchers teachers and practitioners to reconsider how students are involved in research and policy agendas and to what extent radical collegiality can create fundamental and positive changes in the lives of these learners in recent decades greater attention has been paid across policy practice and research discourses to involving children more meaningfully and actively in decisions about their participation in both formal and informal educational settings the book s goal is to illustrate how researchers have systematically involved students in the pursuit of a richer understanding of educational experiences policy and practice through the eyes and ears of young people and through their own cultural lens in his new book in the best interest of students staying true to what works in the classroom teacher and author kelly gallagher notes that there are real strengths in the common core standards and there are significant weaknesses as well he takes the long view reminding us that standards come and go but good teaching remains grounded in proven practices that sharpen students literacy skills instead of blindly adhering to the latest standards movement gallagher suggests increasing the amount of reading and writing students are doing while giving students more choice around those activities balancing rigorous high quality literature and non fiction works with student selected titles encouraging readers to deepen their comprehension by moving beyond the four corners of the text planning lessons that move beyond common core expectations to help young writers achieve more authenticity through the blending of genres using modeling to enrich students writing skills in the prewriting drafting and revision stages resisting the de emphasis of narrative and imaginative reading and writing amid the frenzy of trying to teach to a new set of standards kelly gallagher is a strong voice of reason reminding us that instruction should be anchored around one guiding question what is in the best interest of our students
