in the fall of 1908 no one could have guessed that the chicago cubs a team that had dominated the national league three straight years would for a century be shut out in its efforts to reclaim the world championship stars like frank chance ed reulbach and three finger brown were still in their prime and the cubs had just emerged the winner in the most remarkable pennant race in history in the decades since the achievement of the 1908 cubs has been overshadowed first by the events of the season which included the merkle game and a playoff that pitted two all time great pitchers against each other and more recently by the calendar as the centennial anniversary of the last cubs championship closed in this book rescues the 1908 team from its status as footnote to baseball history following one of the all time great clubs on a thrilling season long march toward the world series all communities have a strong sense of identity with the area in which they live which for england in the early medieval period manifested itself in a series of territorial entities ranging from large kingdoms down to small districts known as pagi or regiones this book investigates these small early folk territories and the way that they evolved into the administrative units recorded in domesday across an entire kingdom that of the east saxons broadly speaking what is now essex middlesex most of hertfordshire and south suffolk a wide range of evidence is drawn upon including archaeology written documents place names and the early cartographic sources the book looks in particular at the relationship between saxon immigrants and the native british population and argues that initially these ethnic groups occupied different parts of the landscape until a dynasty which assumed an anglo saxon identity achieved political ascendancy its members included the so called prittlewell prince buried with spectacular grave good in prittlewell near southend on sea in southern essex other significant places discussed include london the seat of the first east saxon bishopric the possible royal villis at wicken bonhunt near saffron walden and maldon and st peter s chapel at bradwell on sea one of the most important surviving churches from the early christian period
