order to test methodological tools and to hone them for their application in the analysis of narrative discourse starting from the oral tale propp and ending with the written tale instituted as literary genre complex procedures of textual production are identified among which entire sequences as well as the evenemential level of narrative fade away in favor of its cognitive dimension this semiotic investigation is accompanied by a challenge to certain conventions of literary criticism dialogue the locus of realist stereotypes appears laden with paradoxical truths the description of nature inherited from the romantics bristles with narrative intent and entire sections of a valorized figurative universe unfold before us thematic readings are linked up with semantic analysis the figure of water exerts its profound fascination a christian symbolics is uncovered which traverses the text and invites us to read it as a new gospel parable new readings complement older ones and remain as so many suspended possibilities the tale appears somewhat as a sonnet that is to say as a fixed form genre where the closure of the text would be a necessary condition for transcending it the aim of this thesis is to unfold the multilayered intersubjective experience of the author himself a chinese pastor samuel ooi argues for a cultural linguistic experience of shi as the locus at which the intersubjective experience takes place to unfold this experience the author identifies five key texts that are found in his intersubjective experience text a1 shi text a2 yizhuan text b1 pauline notion of principalities and powers text b2 pauline texts i and ii galatians and 1 corinthians and text 0 ooi s initial or seminal experience of shi in dialogue with michael polanyi and hans georg gadamer ooi proposes that a double vision hermeneutic will help interpret the multilayered intersubjective relationships between texts and the subject he argues that study of this intersubjective experience reveals a vital facet of chinese christian self and significantly enhances the study of chinese theology talk text and technology is an ethnography of language learning and
