in his influential work Strategy Safari Henry Mintzberg and his colleagues presented ten schools of strategic thought in this impressive book. Dany Jacobs demonstrates that the real world of strategic management is much wider and richer in mapping strategic diversity. Jacobs distinguishes between cockpit theories of strategy which bring rational analysis to the forefront and process oriented social science approaches which bring in a wider array of influences to the theory and practice of business planning. Presenting 22 different approaches to strategy making this book provides a comprehensive overview of the field. It guides the reader in developing theoretical and practical skills, helps develop both high and low level strategic thinking. This textbook is a useful analysis for practising managers but really comes into its own as an advanced introduction to the field of strategic management. Having read this book students are fully armed to enter the strategy jungle.

Originating in a recent CIERA conference held at the University of Michigan, this book brings together the nation's most distinguished researchers to examine how readers understand text and how comprehension is assessed. The first part provides both national and historical contexts for the study of reading comprehension. The second part examines how vocabulary, motivation, and expertise influence comprehension and it includes analyses of the developmental course and correlates of comprehension. Chapters in the third part consider how schools focus on comprehension for instruction and assessment. The fourth part includes chapters on large scale assessment that analyze how test formats and psychometric characteristics influence measures of reading comprehension. At the end of each part is a commentary written by an expert that reviews the chapters, critiques the main points, and synthesizes critical issues. Key features of this outstanding new book include integration of research and practice, provides a bridge between conceptual issues studied by researchers concerned with reading comprehension theories and practical issues addressed by educators concerned with classroom instruction and assessment.
