Overland Monthly 1887 evocative vignettes and inspiring stories from many of california s south asian american citizens paul michael taylor director asian cultural history program smithsonian institution at the turn of the 19th and 20th centuries adventurous travelers left the punjab in india to seek their fortune in california and beyond laboring in farms fields and orchards for low wages while enduring racial discrimination they strove to put down roots in their new home bhagat singh thind an immigrant who served in the united states army had his citizenship granted and revoked twice before a 1936 law expanded naturalization to all world war i veterans regardless of race dalip singh saund obtained a master s degree and doctorate in mathematics from uc berkeley only to return to farming when no one would hire him in 1956 saund went on to become the first asian elected to the u s congress ethnic south asians are now found in every trade and profession in the united states including the office of the vice president descendants of the first punjabi immigrants from yuba city to the imperial valley still farm adding to the rich tapestry of the central valley author lea terhune recounts the risks setbacks and persistence of the people who achieved their american dreams

Bulletin of More Important Accessions with Bibliographical Contributions 1990 the ghost towns of southern california some dramatic and nearly intact others devastated are well worth visiting most are remnants of once colorful mining towns though there are also railroad towns a world war ii relocation center a promoter s swindle and a failed socialist colony some excellent attractions remain one of the best preserved stamp mills in the west is in skidoo smelters homes stores and the remarkable wooden american hotel can be found in cerro gordo which the author calls california s best true ghost town seasoned back roads traveler philip varney who has visited nearly a hundred ghost towns in the area provides a down to earth and helpful guide to more than sixty of the best in southern california and nearby inyo and kern counties he defines a ghost town as a town with a population markedly decreased from its peak one whose initial reason for settlement no longer keeps people there it can be completely deserted have a resident or two or retain genuine signs of vitality but varney has eliminated those towns he considers either too populated or too empty of significant remains the sites are grouped in four chapters in inyo county death valley the mojave desert and kern river and the regions surrounding los angeles and san diego each chapter provides a map of the region a ranking of sites as major secondary and minor information on road conditions trip suggestions and tips on the use of particular topographic maps for readers interested in more detailed exploration each entry includes directions to a town a brief history of that town and notes on its special points of interest current photographs provide a valuable record of the sometimes fragile sites southern california s best ghost towns will be welcomed both by those who enjoy traveling off the beaten path and by those who enjoy the history of the american west

Tobacco Issues: California's antismoking advertisements and shareholder attempts to stop cigarette advertising 2004-12-13 how did hawaiian and polynesian culture come to dramatically alter american music fashion and decor as well as ideas about race in less than a century it began with mainland hula and musical performances in the late 19th century rose dramatically as millions shipped to hawaii during the pacific war then made big leap with the advent of low cost air travel by the end of the 1950s mainlanders were hosting tiki parties listening to exotic music lazing on rattan furniture in hawaiian shirts and of course surfing increasingly they were marrying people outside of their own racial groups as well the author describes how this cultural conquest came about and the people and events that led to it
