a new exploration of the secular manuscripts and medieval medical texts associated with the york guild and its members produced in 1486 and subsequently augmented the guild book of the barbers and surgeons of york british library egerton ms 2572 is a unique record of the knowledge ambitions activities and civic relationships maintained by the barbers and surgeons guild over a period of 300 years the manuscript s earliest folios contain images astrological tracts a plague treatise and a bloodletting poem to these were added early modern ordinances and oaths a series of royal portraits and the names of the guild s masters and apprentices it is a rare survival of late medieval medical knowledge placed within a civic context this new multi disciplinary examination of the york guild book presents a comprehensive edition of its content and a detailed study of the creation and use of this fascinating manuscript the york guild book was not owned by any one person but was intended to be representative of the types of manuscripts the guild s members might have individually possessed the guild s commission elevated their manuscript s functional content into something which could be proudly owned and displayed as is demonstrated by the stylishly executed pen and ink drawings two of which are possibly unique through a contextualisation of the form and content of the manuscript the book articulates ideas about material culture and the ceremonial role of secular manuscripts whilst shedding new light on the dissemination and status of medieval medical texts

Guild Dynamics in Seventeenth-Century Istanbul 2004

this book presents a new view on the relation between labour and community through a focus on craft guilds in the southern netherlands occupational guilds were both powerful and governed by manufacturing masters enabling the latter to imprint their mark upon urban society in an economic socio cultural and political way while the urban community was deeply indebted to a corporative spirit and guild ethic originating in medieval germanic and christian traditions guild based artisans succeeded in being accepted as genuine political and hence rational actors their political identity and agency being based upon their skills and trustworthiness in the long run this corporative spirit and power inexorably waned yet this book shows that an adequate understanding of the development of european modernity i e proletarianisation and the emergence of a modern economy and modern economic and political thinking requires taking seriously the ruins upon which it is build these histories can actually be recounted as purifications of sorts in which the economic was separated from the political the individual from the social and the transcendent from the material while the religiously inspired corporative nature of the urban body politic waned the urban artisans lost their credibility as political and rational actors
