in the first book to investigate the far reaching emotional impact of globalization dominique moisi shows how the geopolitics of today is characterized by a clash of emotions the west he argues is dominated and divided by fear for muslims and arabs a culture of humiliation is quickly devolving into a culture of hatred asia on the other hand has been able to concentrate on building a better future so it is creating a new culture of hope moisi a leading authority on international affairs explains that in order to understand our changing world we need to confront emotion and as he makes his case he deciphers the driving emotions behind our cultural differences delineating a provocative and important new perspective on globalization in 1993 samuel huntington s the clash of civilizations offered a vision of a world divided by cultural differences national interests and political ideologies in the geopolitics of emotion dominique moisi brilliantly demonstrates that we are now in the midst of a clash of emotions moisi contends that both europe and the united states are dominated by a fear of the other and of the loss of their national identity and purpose for muslims and arabs the combination of historical grievances exclusion from the economic boon of globalization and civil and religious warfare extending from their homelands to the muslim diaspora has created a culture of humiliation that is quickly devolving into a culture of hatred as the west and the muslim world lock horns asia able to concentrate on building a better future has become the culture of hope by understanding the driving emotions behind our cultural differences the geopolitics of emotion offers a better understanding of the world we live in and perhaps a more peaceful solution to the ignorance and differences that plague us this text shows how social phobia is often intermingled in complex ways with a host of other psychiatric disorders including related phobias anxiety disorders eating disorders depression personality disorders and alcohol and drug abuse and dependence in an illuminating and darkly intelligent study william miller has revealed humiliation as the closet dominatrix she is an emotion whose power to discipline us makes the world go round miller makes his pages blaze and roar by throwing another handful of hollow complacencies upon the fire the five essays making up this book are about the persistence of the norm of reciprocity in our daily lives about the ways in which shame and envy and especially humiliation sustain cultures of honor to this day speculum in a brilliant procession through the last 250 years ute frevert looks at the role that public humiliation has played in modern society showing how humiliation and the feeling of shame that it engenders has been used as a means of coercion and control from the worlds of politics and international diplomacy through to the education of children and the administration of justice we learn the stories of the french women whose hair was compulsorily shaven as a punishment for alleged relations with german soldiers during the occupation of france and of the transgressors in the usa who are made to carry a sign announcing their presence when walking down busy streets bringing the story right up to the present we see how the internet and social media pillorying have made public shaming a ubiquitous phenomenon using a multitude of both historical and contemporary examples ute frevert shows how humiliation has been used as a tool over the last 250 years and how it still is today a story that reveals remarkable similarities across different times and places and we see how the art of humiliation is in no way a thing of the past but has been re invented for the 21st century in a world where such humiliation is inflicted not from above by the political powers that be but by our social peers an award winning author and transdisciplinary social scientist offers a this volume explores contemporary social conflict focusing on a sort of violence that rarely receives coverage in the evening news this violence occurs when powerful institutions seek to manipulate the thoughts of marginalized people manufacturing their feelings and fostering a sense of inferiority for the purpose of disciplinary control many american institutions strategically orchestrate this psychic violence through tactics of systemic humiliation this book reveals how certain counter measures based in a commitment to human dignity and respect for every person s inherent moral worth can combat this violence rothbart and other contributors showcase various examples of this tug of war in the us including the politics of race and class in the 2016 presidential campaign the dehumanizing treatment of people with mental disabilities and destructive parenting styles that foster cycles of humiliation and emotional pain in this volume nashef looks at j m coetzee s concern with universal suffering and the inevitable humiliation of the human being as manifest in his novels though several theorists have referred to the theme of human degradation in coetzee s work no detailed study has been made of this area of concern especially with respect to how pervasive it is across coetzee s literary output to date this study examines what j m coetzee s novels portray as the circumstances that contribute to the humiliation of the individual namely the abuse of language master and slave interplay aging and senseless waiting and how these conditions can lead to the alienation and marginalization of the individual this book seeks to inspire you lift up your faith and give you hope and confidence in the future it teaches you not to accept the disadvantageous circumstances of your birth the place where you started life or other limitations as a fait accompli but rather to learn to become strategically positioned to have a destiny encounter that could totally transform your life and lead you to a life of victory and celebration this book presents humiliation as a key harm of sexual violence against women showing that humiliation manifests within the relation of self to itself and that foucault s critique of subjectivity provides resources for feminist conceptualization and countering of sexual violence and humiliation within feminist philosophy and theory rape and sexual assault are often described as humiliating to victims yet relatively few in depth feminist philosophical accounts and analyses exist of humiliation as a harm of sexual violence against women this book provides such an account and analysis of both humiliation generally and sexual humiliation resulting from sexual violence more specifically the book s elucidation of possibilities for countering sexual violence and humiliation moreover breaks with standard feminist approaches by critiquing rather than appealing to subjectivity through analysing specific instances of anti sexual violence protest it shows that cultivation of alternative modes of self relation furthers rather than undermines feminist efforts to combat sexual violence throughout the book draws upon concrete recent and contemporary instances of sexual violence against women and feminist anti sexual violence protest to illustrate and support its arguments this will become a key text for feminist scholars and foucault scholars in the humanities and social sciences and for graduate and advanced undergraduate students it will also be of interest to feminist anti sexual violence activists pride and disgrace nostalgia and revenge tenderness and seduction from the dusty backstreets of santiago and the sun baked alleyways of impoverished fishing villages to the dark stairwells of urban apartment blocks paulina flores paints an intimate picture of a world in which the shadow of humiliation of delusion seduction and sabotage is never far away this is a chile we seldom see in fiction with an exceptional eye for human fragility with unfailing insight and extraordinary tenderness humiliation is a mesmerising collection from a rising star of south american literature translated from the spanish by man Booker international prize finalist Megan McDowell to the animal models volumes this volume describes animal models of drug addiction because of increasing public concern over the ethical treatment of animals in research we felt it incumbent upon us to include this general preface in order to indicate why we think further research using animals is necessary animals should only be used when suitable alternatives are not available and humans can only be experimented upon in severely proscribed circumstances alternative procedures using cell or tissue culture are inadequate in any models requiring assessments of behavioral change or of complex in vivo processes however when the distress discomfort or pain to the animals outweighs the anticipated gains for human welfare the research is not ethical and should not be carried out it is imperative that each individual researcher examine his/her own research from a critical moral standpoint before engaging in it and take into consideration the animals welfare as well as the anticipated gains furthermore once a decision to proceed with research is made it is the researcher's responsibility to ensure that the animals welfare is of prime concern in terms of appropriate housing feeding and maximum reduction of any uncomfortable or distressing effects of the experimental conditions the memoir of a man who simply wants to be loved Henry Robson is suffering he is a balding failing actor living all alone in rural Dorset when two choices present themselves he inadvertently selects both initially a torrid affair seems to tick all the boxes but any happiness derived from the liaison soon unravels when Henry untrained as a teacher accepts employment at a school run by a madman finding himself surrounded by specialists in humiliation professional public and private will he learn his lesson follow the adventures and misadventures of this lovable but hapless rogue a man all the more endearing for his weaknesses laugh as slapstick jostles for supremacy with the surreal and cry twice over at moments of utter poignancy an Ağa Saga for men and for women wishing to know what men are really thinking lessons in humiliation falls headlong towards a most unexpected dénouement fans of humorous fiction will find themselves crying both with laughter and out of sympathy for the plight of the narrator in international relations IR some states often deny the legal status of others stigmatising their practices or even their culture such acts of deliberate humiliation at the diplomatic level are common occurrences in modern diplomacy in the period following the breakup of the famous concert of Europe many kinds of club based diplomacy have been tried all falling short of anything like inclusive multilateralism examples of this effort include the G7 G8 G20 and even the P5 such contact groups are put forward as if they were actual ruling institutions endowed with the power to exclude and marginalise today the effect of such acts of humiliation is to reveal the international system's limits and its lack of diplomatic effectiveness the use of humiliation as a regular diplomatic action steadily erodes the power of the international system these actions appear to be the result of a botched mixture of a colonial past a failed decolonisation a mistaken vision of globalisation and a very dangerous post bipolar reconstruction although this book primarily takes a social psychology approach to IR it also mobilizes the resources of the French sociological tradition mainly inspired by Emile Durkheim it is translated from Le temps des humiliés pathologie des relations internationales Paris Odile Jacob 2014 how could the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) not only survive but even thrive regaining the support of many Chinese citizens after the Tiananmen Square crackdown of 1989 why has popular sentiment turned toward anti western nationalism despite the anti dictatorship democratic movements of the 1980s and why has China been more assertive toward the United States and Japan in foreign policy but relatively conciliatory toward smaller countries in conflict offering an explanation for these unexpected trends Zheng Wang follows the Communist government's ideological reeducation of the public which relentlessly portrays China as the victim of foreign imperialist bullying during one hundred years of humiliation by concentrating on the telling and teaching of history in today's China Wang illuminates the thinking of the young patriots who will lead this rising power in the twenty first century Wang visits China's primary schools and memory sites and reads its history textbooks arguing that China's rise should not be viewed through a single lens such as economics or military growth but from a more comprehensive perspective that takes national identity and domestic discourse into account since it is the prime raw material for constructing China's national identity historical memory is the key to unlocking the inner mystery of the Chinese from this vantage point Wang tracks the CCP's use of history education to glorify the party reestablish its legitimacy consolidate national identity and justify one party rule in the post Tiananmen and post Cold War era the institutionalization of this manipulated historical consciousness now directs political discourse and foreign policy and Wang demonstrates its important role in China's rise examines security theology surveillance and the industry of fear from the intimate spaces of everyday life in settler colonial contexts Hildersham's fasting prayer and humiliation for sin offers a portrait of eight sermons on Psalm 35:13 preached in 1625-1626 yet unlike a still picture they exude a lively energy and intensity prompted by the seriousness of the occasion an outbreak of plague throughout Hildersham presents the reasons need method and helps the Christian is to employ in taking up fasting and prayer as a serious duty both for himself and for others especially in the face of great judgment his work encourages Christians to grow in repentance for sin by laying out its seriousness and the reality of its consequences whether in this life or the next his word then is timely now as the Lord himself counsels you prepare to meet thy God Blema Steinberg adopts a psychoanalytical approach in her examination of the decision making of Lyndon Johnson Richard Nixon and Dwight Eisenhower during the Vietnam War she argues that personality traits such as narcissism influenced critical decisions they made about US intervention in vietnam in the literature of this vast and compelling subject a b bruce s great book the humiliation of christ stands alone and apart spoken of as having won for himself the foremost place among christian apologists in the nineteenth century a b bruce crowned his new testament studies which included such famous books as the training of the twelve and st paul s conception of christianity etc with this brilliantly impressive study of a subject which he especially was equipped to write here bruce employs the teaching of scripture as it deepens and sharpens our perceptions of the sufferings of our lord to form dynamic as well as correct views of christ s person experience and work and having complete grasp of the relevant literature ancient modern and that of his own contemporaries he acts as a reliable and sure guide in the criticism of the various theories of christ as lord and redeemer a book every advanced student of the new testament will cherish with insightful chapters from key social psychologists and peace scholars this handbook offers an integrative and extensive overview of critical questions issues processes and strategies relevant to understanding and addressing intergroup conflict this book is organised in a way of listening to a dialogue between theoretical approaches it represents an effort to build bridges between the different ways both psychoanalytical and systemic of thinking about the shame and humiliation and its context which can cross fertilise each other this book examines the damaging impact of humiliation in human society by using case studies of observed humiliation the book discusses the power play between groups organizations and nations it shows how public shame can lead to damaging psychological states and violent responses amongst vulnerable individuals this book reveals the phenomenon in russian prose in which a male protagonist finds himself perpetuating a cycle of passion humiliation and revenge within his relationships with women by examining the mental and emotional state of the male protagonist who finds himself in a sexual situation rina lapidus explores how his passion for a woman leads the man into an encounter that causes him humiliation and ends up eliciting a powerful desire on his part to punish the woman who initially arouses his erotic feeling the male protagonist directs his fury at the woman seeking vengeance because of the shame he has suffered lapidus shows how the man sees himself as a highly spiritual being and finds it difficult to come to terms with his sexual nature the author argues that this denial of desire leads the man to take out his frustration with himself on the woman projecting all of his faults and guilt onto her when the woman brings the male protagonist low his thirst for revenge becomes a powerful driving force in his life that eventually brings about his downfall this book will be of interest to those studying in the areas of russian literature psychology and gender studies the text for the new soldier deals with the causes symptoms and solutions to global terrorism particularly jihadist islamic based terrorism the book is an expanded version of the essay a fearful symmetry a new global balance of power for which the author was awarded the 2007 grand prize by the st cyr foundation which supports the st cyr military academy established by napoleon bonaparte in effect france s west point the work was unanimously awarded the first grand prize by a jury of four distinguished panelists and later translated and published in french under the title une symétrie de la peur vers un nouvel équilibre mondial des puissances paul wormser trans cld Éditions november 2008 the new soldier is in essence a traditional soldier but one who is endowed with compassion empathy and cultural understanding this soldier is better able to navigate through the unknown terrain of ideological emotional and psychological conflicts within the realm of global terrorism the new soldier is a strategic tool in combating global terrorism and may be immediately deployed in multilateral forces the practical uses of the new soldier in the context of fragile states particularly in terms of stabilizing and reconstructing war torn or collapsed states by multilateral forces is analyzed in great depth in the book at a time when divorce and broken families are common christian families are seeking god s blessing and wisdom to preserve and make fruitful their marriages and journey together the author has been married for sixty one years and through his experiences conversations and counseling with many couples he has garnered important insights on how christians may have good and productive marriages this book provides guidance that christians can prayerfully use to enrich their journey in married life with their partners if they choose to listen the author s six decades with his partner susan have encouraged him to share his and her insights with fellow christians this book by one of latin america s leading cultural theorists examines the place of the subject and the role of biographical and autobiographical genres in contemporary culture arfuch argues that the on going proliferation of private and intimate stories what she calls the biographical space can be seen as symptomatic of the impersonalizing dynamics of contemporary times autobiographical genres however harbour an intersubjective dimension the i who speaks wants to be heard by another and the other who listens discovers in autobiography possible points of identification autobiographical genres including those that border on fiction therefore become spaces in which the singularity of experience opens onto the collective and its historicity in ways that allow us to reflect on the ethical political and aesthetic dimensions not only of self representation but also of life itself opening up debate through juxtaposition and dialogue arfuch s own poetic writing moves freely from the holocaust to argentina s last dictatorship and its traumatic memories and then to the troubled borderlands between mexico and the united states to show how artists rescue shards of memory that would otherwise be relegated to the dustbin of history in so doing she makes us see not only how challenging it is to represent past traumas and violence but also how vitally necessary it is to do so as a political strategy for combating the tides of forgetting and for finding ways of being in common terrorism poses an undeniable threat to societies throughout the world today martyr terrorism the fastest growing form of terrorist activity and arguably the most effective has become a regular occurrence but how has terrorist activity evolved in the last 100 years and what are the ethical costs of terrorism in this informative book three philosophers all experts on the ethics of conflict examine the various definitions of terrorism and the nature of martyr terrorism through accounts of terrorist campaigns from 19th century russian terrorism to the 20th century campaigns in ireland israel and greece and contemporary campaigns in chechnya afghanistan and iraq this fascinating book explores the ethical implications of terrorism from a philosophical perspective setting out the social psychological and political causes of terrorism the book interrogates the cases for and against terrorist activity in terms of just war theory articulate provocative and stimulating this timely book is an ideal introduction to an important contemporary social issue how could the chinese communist party ccp not only survive but even thrive regaining the support of many chinese citizens after the tiananmen square crackdown of 1989 why has popular sentiment turned toward anti western nationalism despite the anti dictatorship democratic movements of the 1980s and why has china been more assertive toward the united states and japan in foreign policy but relatively conciliatory toward smaller countries in conflict offering an explanation for these unexpected trends zheng wang follows the communist government's ideological reeducation of the public which relentlessly portrays china as the victim of foreign imperialist bullying during 'one hundred years of humiliation' by concentrating on the telling and teaching of history in today's china wang illuminates the thinking of the young patriots who will lead this rising power in the twenty first century wang visits china's primary schools and memory sites and reads its history textbooks arguing that china's rise should not be viewed through a single lens such as economics or military growth but from a more comprehensive perspective that takes national identity and domestic discourse into account since it is the prime raw material for constructing china's national identity historical memory is the key to unlocking the inner mystery of the chinese from this vantage point wang tracks the ccp's use of history education to glorify the party reestablish its legitimacy consolidate national identity and justify one party rule in the post tiananmen and post-cold war era the institutionalization of this manipulated historical consciousness now directs political discourse and foreign policy and wang demonstrates its important role in china's rise this book by one of latin america s leading cultural theorists examines the place of the subject and the role of biographical and autobiographical genres in contemporary culture arfuch argues that the on going proliferation of private and intimate stories what she calls the biographical space can be seen as symptomatic of the impersonalizing dynamics of contemporary times autobiographical genres however harbour an intersubjective dimension the i who speaks wants to be heard by another and the other who listens discovers in autobiography possible points of identification autobiographical genres including those that border on fiction therefore become spaces in which the singularity of experience opens onto the collective and its historicity in ways that allow us to reflect on the ethical political and aesthetic dimensions not only of self representation but also of life itself opening up debate through juxtaposition and dialogue arfuch s own poetic writing moves freely from the holocaust to argentina s last dictatorship and its traumatic memories and then to the troubled borderlands between mexico and the united states to show how artists rescue shards of memory that would otherwise be relegated to the dustbin of history in so doing she makes us see not only how challenging it is to represent past traumas and violence but also how vitally necessary it is to do so as a political strategy for combating the tides of forgetting and for finding ways of being in common
