at once one of the century s foremost composers and a founder of american music theory these two aspects of his creative life thinking in and thinking about music as he would put it nourished each other theory and analysis inspired fresh compositional ideas and compositional concerns focused theoretical and analytical inquiry accordingly this book undertakes an excavation of the sources of his theorizing as a guide to analysis of his music in thinking in and about music author zachary bernstein shows how babbitt s idiosyncratic synthesis of ideas from heinrich schenker analytic philosophy and cognitive science at least as much as more obviously relevant predecessors such as arnold schoenberg provide insight into his aesthetics and compositional technique at the same time a close look at his music reveals a host of concerns unaccounted for in his theories some of which seem to directly contradict theoretical expectations bernstein argues therefore that new analytical models are needed to complement those suggested by babbitt s theories departing from the serial logic of most previous work on the subject and in an attempt to discuss babbitt s music as it is actually heard rather than just deciphered the book brings to bear theories of gesture and embodiment rhetoric text setting and temporality the result is a richly multi faceted look at one of the twentieth century s most fascinating musical minds for more than a century the term main street has conjured up nostalgic images of american small town life representations exist all around us from fiction and film to the architecture of shopping malls and disneyland all the while the nation has become increasingly diverse exposing tensions within this ideal in the death and life of main street miles orvell wrestles with the mythic allure of the small town in all its forms illustrating how americans continue to reinscribe these images on real places in order to forge consensus about inclusion and civic identity especially in times of crisis orvell underscores the fact that main street was never what it seemed it has always been much more complex than it appears as he shows in his discussions of figures like sinclair lewis willa cather frank capra thornton wilder margaret bourke white and walker evans he argues that translating the overly tidy cultural metaphor into real spaces as has been done in recent decades especially in the new urbanist planned communities of elizabeth plater zyberk and andres duany actually diminishes the communitarian ideals at the center of this nostalgic construct orvell investigates the way these tensions play out in a variety of cultural realms and explores the rise of literary and artistic traditions that deliberately challenge the tropes and assumptions of small town ideology and life the swiss reformed theologian emil brunner was one of the key figures in the early 20th century theological movement of dialectical theology in this monograph david gilland offers an account of brunner s earlier theology in relation to one of the central themes of the protestant reformation law and gospel he examines brunner s early relationship with fellow swiss reformed theologian karl barth and provides a detailed reading of a variety of brunner s essays from the early to mid 1920s centering on brunner s efforts to use the law gospel relationship to establish a basis for christian theology after analyzing the influence this has on brunner s theological method gilland examines brunner s earliest text on christology the mediator 1927 in light of the preceding analysis the fourth chapter provides a careful reading of brunner s controversial polemic against karl barth nature and grace 1934 the monograph concludes with reflections on brunner s earlier theological work and his turbulent relationship with karl barth spiritual themes are common in movies the unconventional savior the hero s journey the redemption tale the balance of creation journalist john a zukowski reflects on twelve major spiritual themes in the world of cinema discussing films from dead man walking to bruce almighty from groundhog day to chariots of fire and many more see them all read them all before you die american modernist fiction psychoanalytic recitations of identity addresses five american modernist novels in light of lacanian psychoanalytic theory nathanael west s miss lonelyhearts kay boyle s process djuna barnes s nightwood thornton wilder s the cabala and f scott fitzgerald s tender is the night dolis s dynamic readings constitute a spirited performance of the narrative deploying his own innovative form of literary analysis what he calls performance criticism these psychoanalytic studies simultaneously stage the narrative and re enact its putative significance provoke and question its intent thereby establishing a dialectics of desire what both affects the body of the narrative and equally the critic s subjectivity this book includes studies by leading philosophers and cultural critics from asia europe and the americas the essays represent different philosophical traditions and contrasting cultural viewpoints in the arts literature architecture philosophy and the global politics of today in spite of their discrepancies the authors of these essays agree on one fundamental point critical forums of this scope are crucial and thus necessary as we enter the twenty first century after two world wars and the rise of western and eastern forms of totalitarianism these core features of western civilization critique modernity and humanism have been contested and dismissed as areas of mere academic interest the contributors to this book challenge such a view an insatiable dialectic essays on critique modernity and humanism will be of benefit to scholars college students and to probing readers interested in a founding western legacy that seldom appears as the focus of inquiry in a single book herein divided into three parts critique and modernity humanism and the humanities and traditions and global modernities while modernity and modernization have been embraced by nations around the globe humanism and critique have almost disappeared from contemporary mainstream discourse at times unjustly set aside as elitist or as an obsolete domain of a liberal tradition that has failed to grasp the hard realities of our global age this book disputes these short sighted and clearly ideological positions pointing to the radically transforming effects of modernization on the world s traditional cultures and the inevitable problems and challenges in areas relative to religious fundamentalisms weakening political institutions ecosystems ravaged by global technologies and world wide attempts by various nations to achieve economic and political stability in the debates and tentative conclusions presented in this book the reader will learn about the on going dialectic that shapes modernity through a re imagined humanism and critique currently indispensable in an emerging world order in which democratic ideals and intercultural understanding are vanishing possibilities common conceptions permeating u s ethnic queer theory tend to confuse aesthetics with real world acts and politics often chicano a representations of gay and lesbian experiences in literature and film are analyzed simply as propaganda the cognitive emotional and narrational ingredients that is the subject matter and the formal traits of those representations are frequently reduced to a priori agendas that emphasize a politics of difference in this book frederick luis aldama follows an entirely different approach he investigates the ways in which race and gay lesbian sexuality intersect and operate in chicano a literature and film while taking into full account their imaginative nature and therefore the specific kind of work invested in them also aldama frames his analyses within today s larger globalized context of postcolonial literary and filmic canons that seek to normalize heterosexual identity and experience throughout the book aldama applies his innovative approach to throw new light on the work of authors arturo islas richard rodriguez john rechy ana castillo and sheila ortiz taylor as well as that of film director edward james olmos in doing so aldama aims to integrate and deepen chicano literary and filmic studies within a comparative perspective aldama s unusual juxtapositions of narrative materials and cultural personae and his premise that literature and film produce fictional examples of a social and historical reality concerned with ethnic and sexual issues largely unresolved make this book relevant to a wide range of readers strippers may be the main attraction of strip clubs but their work is bolstered by people who are rarely meaningfully considered those who organize supervise manage or coordinate the labour of erotic dancers including managers bouncers and disc jockeys playing the supporting role contends it is essential to explore the managerial layer in order to have a comprehensive understanding of the power relations and working conditions in the erotic dance sector and consequently distinguish banal or beneficial from unfair or exploitative sex industry labour practices focusing primarily on third parties in the erotic dance sector this book examines who these individuals are how they manage clients workers security and stigma the services and resources they provide and in turn strippers experiences and perceptions of these practices through qualitative interview data with third parties and strippers from two ontario cities playing the supporting role ultimately advances an understanding of third party work as gendered classed and racialized occupational performance in a stigmatized labour sector that is simultaneously over and under regulated a critique of the conventional wisdom a philosophical exploration of pop music that reveals a rich self reflexive art form with unsuspected depths in the first major philosophical treatise on the subject agnès gayraud explores all the paradoxes of pop its inauthentic authenticity its mass production of emotion and personal resonance its repetitive novelty its precision engineering of seduction and calls for pop in its broadest sense encompassing all genres of popular recorded music to be recognized as a modern technologically mediated art form to rank alongside cinema and photography in a thoroughgoing engagement with adorno s fierce critique of standardized light popular music dialectic of pop tracks the transformations of the pop form and its audience over the course of the twentieth century from hillbilly to beyoncé from lead belly to drake inseparable from the materiality of its technical media indifferent and intractable to the perspectives of high culture pop subverts notions of authenticity and inauthenticity original and copy aura and commodity medium and message gayraud demonstrates that far from being the artless and trivial mass produced pabulum denigrated by adorno pop is a rich self reflexive artform that recognises its own contradictions incorporates its own productive negativity and often flourishes by thinking against itself dialectic of pop sings the praises of pop as a constitutively impure form resulting from the encounter between industrial production and the human predilection for song and diagnoses the prospects for twenty first century pop as it continues to adapt to ever changing technological mediations the johannine renaissance in early modern english literature and theology argues that the fourth gospel and first epistle of saint john the evangelist were so influential during the early modern period in england as to share with pauline theology pride of place as leading apostolic texts on matters christological sacramental pneumatological and political the book argues further that in several instances johannine theology is more central than both pauline theology and the synoptic theology of matthew mark and luke particularly with regard to early modern polemicizing on the trinity distinctions between agape and eros and the ideologies of radical dissent especially the seventeenth century antinomian challenge of free grace to traditional puritan pietism in particular early modern religious poetry including works by robert southwell george herbert john donne richard crashaw thomas traherne and anna trapnel embraces a distinctive form of johannine devotion that emphasizes the divine rather than human nature of christ the belief that salvation is achieved more through revelation than objective atonement and expiatory sin a realized eschatology a robust doctrine of assurance and comfort and a stylistic and rhetorical approach to representing these theological features that often emulates john s mode of discipleship misunderstanding and dramatic irony early modern johannine devotion assumes that religious lyrics often express a revelatory poetics that aims to clarify typically through the use of dramatic irony some of the deepest mysteries of the fourth gospel and first epistle revolutionary theories from marx onward have often struggled to unite the psychological commitments of individuals understood as ideological with the larger ethical or political goals of a social movement as a psychiatrist social theorist and revolutionary frantz fanon attempted to connect the ideological and the political fanon s work gives both a psychological explanation of the origins of ideology and seeks to restore the individual to autonomy and political agency this book explores the deeper philosophical foundations of fanon s project in order to understand the depths of fanon s contribution to the theory of the subject and to social theory it also demonstrates how fanon s model makes it possible to understand the political dimensions of freudian psychoanalysis and the psychological dimensions of hegel s social theory this is the first book to bring these two central dimensions of fanon s thought into dialogue it uses fanon s position to provide a deeper interpretation of key texts in freud and hegel and by uniting these three thinkers contributes to the creolization of all three thinkers nightlife is a place of both real and imagined risk a frontier melbin 1978 where apparent freedom and transgression are closely linked and where regulation of leisure and collective intoxication has been diffused throughout an expanding network of state and private actors this book explores sydney s contemporary night time economy as the product of an intersection of both local and global transformations as policing comes to incorporate more and more private personnel empowered to regulate public drinking and nightlife policing nightlife focuses on the historical and social conditions cultural meanings and regulatory controls that have shaped both public and private forms of policing and security in contemporary urban nightlife in so doing it reflects more broadly on global changes in the nature of contemporary policing and how aspects of neoliberalism and the ideal of the 24 hour city have shaped policing security and night time leisure based on a decade of research and interviews with both police and doorstaff working in nightlife settings it explores the effectiveness of policies governing policing and private security in the night time economy in the context of media political and public debates about regulation and the gendered and highly masculine aspects of much of this work an accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology and those interested in understanding the debates surrounding security policing and contemporary urban nightlife
