epic into novel examines an unexplored tension in fielding s work the tension between his commitment to the classical tradition and his immersion in a print culture in which books were regarded as consumable commodities it gives a fresh account of fielding s engagement with classical literature showing how he fashioned his novels out of ancient epic it also shows how fielding drew on the language of cookery and consumption in order to characterize his relationship with the market this interest in the place of the ancients in a world of consumerism was inherited from the previous generation of satirists the scriblerians among them jonathan swift john gay and alexander pope repeatedly suggest in their work that classical values are at odds with modern tastes and appetites fielding who had idolized these writers as a young man developed many of their satiric routines in his own writing but fielding broke from swift gay and pope in creating a version of epic designed to appeal to modern consumers henry power draws on a range of sources including eighteenth century cookery books as well as works of classical literature to offer fresh readings of works by swift gay and pope and of fielding s major novels epic into novel explores fielding s engagement with various scriblerian themes primarily the consumption of literature but also the professionalization of scholarship and the status of the author it shows ultimately that fielding broke with the scriblerians in acknowledging and celebrating the influence of the marketplace on his work
