prestige and international visibility beyond the confines of the academic world are key reasons for universities to get involved in international relations many of the common practices we know today like honorary degrees exchange programs or funding special study centres first emerged around the turn to the 20th century especially in transatlantic relations while the german and the french governments were vying for political sympathies in the us newly reformed american research universities were hoping for academic recognition in europe and social acceptance at home thus developed a distinct university diplomacy pursued in particular by university presidents professors and educators as the foreign service was only beginning to professionalize
