if as many argue movies and television have become western culture's premier storytelling media so too have they become for most members of society the primary source of encounters with the natural world particularly wild animals the television fare offered nightly by national and cable networks such as pbs and the discovery channel provides millions of viewers with their only experience of the wilderness and its inhabitants the very films that so many viewers take as accurate portrayals of wildlife however have evolved primarily as a form of entertainment following the established codes and conventions of narrative exposition the result has been not the representation of nature but its wholesale reconstruction and reconfiguration according to film and television conventions audience expectations and the demands of competition in the media marketplace wildlife films traces the genealogy of the nature film from its origins as the animal locomotion studies that mark the very beginnings of motion pictures themselves to the founding of the animal planet cable channel that boasts all animals all the time the narrative and thematic elements that unite wildlife films as a genre have their roots not in the documentary film tradition but in the older traditions of oral and written animal fables as reflections of human society bousé contends that classic wildlife films often portray animal protagonists living in families modeled on an ideal of the human nuclear family and working in communities that resemble an ideal of bucolic human society in these stories presented as documentaries animals are motivated by human emotions and conduct relationships according to human customs this imposition of culturally satisfying narrative patterns upon the lives of animals has not only led to the misrepresentation of the natural world it has promoted the notion that our values our moral vision our models of society and family structure derive from nature rather than being cultural formations

no doubt you have heard the age old legend of the mother vein of gold which appears and vanishes now and again in this corner of the world superstition regarding this great original vein of gold is found wherever men seek the precious metal the feverish spaniards called this phantom lode the madre d oro or mother of gold now it is located in mexico now in india or peru california or australia tradition says that montezuma got his gold from this great vein which lay in a secret valley whose whereabouts was jealously guarded by three priests of the war tribe sole possessors of the knowledge any intruder who by chance or design looked down into this valley was smitten absolutely blind tradition among the successors of the aztecs says that when montezuma passed the madre d oro sank back again into the earth and has been seen no more men still follow the phantom vein those who see it even in their dreams still are smitten blind preface centuries ago when penguins were first encountered by european explorers they were not thought to be birds but rather a fish like relative subsequent accumulation of knowledge has shown penguins to be an avian species with unrivaled aquatic attributes owing to a number of evolutionary adaptations shape change low drag ability to regulate buoyancy and extraordinary surface compliancy from their featheration they are indeed the most extremely specialized diving bird having given up flight which otherwise is hugely advantageous to the benefit of underwater prowess such as speed maneuverability and an ability to exploit an extraordinary range of depths this flightlessness however also comes with costs that are substantial for a seabird such as the inability to cover large distances quickly in reaction to ephemeral prey and the energy needed to cope with moving through an aqueous environment which is more resistant than air for penguins the high energetic costs in exploiting the ocean environment thus makes them especially sensitive to changes in food availability or their access to their prey while a number of penguin books cover the natural history mainly of breeding aspects few address in much detail the incredible aquatic nature of these creatures a huge amount of information has been amassed over recent past decades thanks to dramatic advances in microelectronics bio logging and maturation of some long term studies of penguin life history this work represents an integration of all these data with charts maps and graphs along with richly illustrated photos by experts in the field forty miles out into the atlantic from the western isles of scotland lies the archipelago of st kilda home to human populations for more than 4000 years the islands inhabitants were evacuated from the main island in 1930 leaving it as a haven for wildlife a tourist destination and workplace for those studying and monitoring the islands ecology and its radar station built in the 1950s many of those writing about st kilda have emphasised the remoteness and insularity of its environment describing its population as having endured a wretched and isolated existence marooned on an archipelago miles from civilisation in this book andrew fleming challenges such interpretations his history of the islands reviews the archaeological evidence for the first inhabitants before 2000 bc how they lived and survived and how they became integrated into the wider world much of the book focuses on more recent times where documentary sources relay in great detail the lives of st kildans over the past few centuries how they farmed administered justice took on communal responsibilities their religious and other beliefs the impact of visitors to the islands and how events outside of the islands had an impact on their lives described as a historical drama this is an excellent story of a remote island community which has been mythologised by many commentators superb photographs do much of the work of description arctic birds have long held a fascination for richard vaughan whose trips to the region watching and photographing birds have provided the raw material for a number of previous publications here he focuses on the historical aspects of arctic ornithology bringing to life not only the birds but the activities of those who have lived with them or explored in search of them a general introduction to the arctic and the forces that shape its bird populations and their biology is followed by sections on native peoples whaling and discovery ships and the famous ornithologists who have investigated these often inhospitable habitats conservation both of individual species and of habitats is discussed against the background of threats to the arctic environment since half the arctic lies in russia detailed consideration is naturally given to arctic bird studies in that country as well as in north america and greenland purely ornithological interludes look in detail at the gyrfalcon knots ross s gull geese divers snowy owls and many more the book includes practical advice on how to visit the arctic and where and when to go richard vaughan s own photographs and the drawings of swedish artist gunnar brusewitz do real justice to the beauty of both the environment and its birds clash of dynasties why gov nelson rockefeller killed jfk rfk and ordered the watergate break in to end the presidential hopes of ted kennedy binds together the crimes of the century kennedy had a dream for the nation but rockefeller had his own nefarious ambition to be president rockefeller employed a staff of seventy paid for by rockefeller foundation funds actually he used his staff to serve the 1960 kennedy election in the hopes that a kennedy victory would destroy richard nixon as a viable republican national candidate however after accepting his support the kennedy brothers turned on rockefeller who had become a republican frontrunner in the 1964 presidential race when the allegations surfaced that rockefeller was using foundation money atty gen robert kennedy began preparing charges against the governor with the intent of sinking nelsons political aspirations succinctly stated rockefeller beat them to the punch by arranging the jfk assassination although losing the republican nomination in the waning hours of the primary rockefellers misuse of foundation funds touched off a congressional investigation as well this sounds very similar to the recent allegations surrounding the clinton foundation most people will be surprised to learn that the foundation is located on the forty second floor of the time life building located in rockefeller center until very recently the rockefeller foundation was on the forty first floor it was time life inc that purchased the zapruder film and hid it for twelve years it shows kennedys head whipping backwards by a bullet strike to his forehead firmly suggesting a conspiracy representing thirty five years of research clash of dynasties is much more than a whodunit book it is about how the rockefellerocracy still wields malevolent power from behind a secret network of 501 c 3s philanthropic foundations rockefeller ford carnegie etc visit rockefellerocracy com
