an accurate and comprehensive study of the political aspects of fielding s art has been sorely needed as a result of decades of work by literary scholars and a series of great historians such a study is finally possible this volume addresses that need and in the light of a recent revival of interest in fielding s work it arrives most opportunely the author offers here a wide ranging focus and a firm grip on the shifting complexities of fielding s political situations the loyalties and enmities factional alignments and fractious rhetoric that allow a satisfactory understanding of fielding s political writing political writing in fielding s day as in ours was topical concerned with evanescent problems and day to day needs that were familiar to contemporaries but that are now recaptured only with greatest difficulty this study constitutes a thorough reconstruction of fielding s political context and extricates from the context fielding s own political endeavours clearly s work will make many of fielding s previously unstudied work accessible to students and scholars of eighteenth century english literature a necessary point of reference to both literary specialists and historians concerned with eighteenth century england despite the recent proliferation of literature on nationalism and on social policy relatively little has been written to analyse the possible interaction between the two scholars interested in social citizenship have indirectly dealt with the interaction between national identity and social programs such as the british nhs but they have seldom examined this connection in reference to nationalism specialists of nationalism rarely mention social policy focusing instead on language culture ethnicity and religion the main objective of this book is to explore the nature of the connection between nationalism and social policy from a comparative and historical perspective at the theoretical level this analysis will shed new light on a more general issue the relationships between identity formation territorial politics and social policy although this book refers to the experience of many different countries the main cases are three multinational states that is states featuring strong nationalist movements canada québec the united kingdom scotland and belgium flanders the book looks at the interplay between nationalism and social policy at both the state and sub state levels through a detailed comparison between these three cases in its concluding chapter the book brings in cases of mono national states i e france germany sweden and the united states to provide broader comparative insight on the meshing of nationalism and social policy the original theoretical framework for this research is built using insight from selected scholarship on nationalism and on the welfare state what lay behind charles de gaulle s vive le québec libre speech in montreal on 24 july 1967 philippe rossillon s activities in new brunswick belgium and africa and the sinking of greenpeace s rainbow warrior in new zealand in 1985 j f bosher argues that the motivation behind all these incidents was a policy of underhanded imperial ambition on the part of france in the gaullist attack on canada he contends that french nationalists have been at work behind the screen of harmless fraternising of international francophonie in order to stimulate french revolutionary nationalism in quebec and elsewhere and that the gaullist ideology behind these attempts rests on a set of myths about past events age old resentment of the english speaking nations and a deep rooted belief in the superiority of france its language and its culture the gaullist attack on canada reveals a phase of french imperialism that poses a threat to canadian confederation since the 1960s bosher argues de gaulle and his followers have conspired to stimulate quebec separatism as part of their larger goal to revive france s role as a great power he bases his case on the evidence of france s actions in other former french colonies especially in africa as well as the writings of such leading gaullist conspirators as bernard dorin pierre claude mallen pierre de menthon and philippe rossillon who have boasted about their efforts to win quebec away from canada for france bosher criticises the canadian government for its failure to respond to or even to recognise the gaullist threat the under secretary of state for external affairs in the 1960s marcel cadieux wanted to take vigorous steps against the gaullist mafia but was overruled by his political superiors bosher argues that even now by standing up to french aggression the government might weaken the separatist movement in quebec or at least turn the tide of political support for it global convulsions affords the reader an array of observations data and insights pertaining to both local and global events around the issues of race ethnicity and nationalism at the end of the twentieth century it scrutinizes closely the phenomenon of race in both historical and scientific contexts and calls out a range of sociohistorical forces that have engendered ethnicity and nationalism through case studies the contributors bring into sharp focus an array of ethnic cleavages the difficulty of the struggle for national rights where language and religion draw a hard ethnic divide and the actual corrosiveness of ethnicity and nationalism on the state the enduring value of global convulsions lies in its global reach and the patterns that it calls out it makes plain that the state is no salvation in relation to national chauvinism ethnic exclusivism and or racial paranoia indeed the state if not the cause is often a consummative force perpetuating these phenomena still according to the contributors to this volume the state has much potential to transcend the divides of race ethnicity and nationalism and so in global convulsions does one discern the possibility of us them becoming us together
